

BURY GIVES ROOSEVELT CHARGE

NEW YORK, June 8. (U.P.)—Charges which Judge Samuel compiled against James J. Mayor of New York City, delivered to the executive tonight.

Seabury's youthful assistant, a taxi dash from the station to the executive bearing the transcripts of the hearing before the Hofstadter in New York City.

The mansion shortly before 10 o'clock, they were met with a statement that the governor had retired for the night. The packages containing the transcripts and went to a hotel.

Merriam, Sidney Freeman and Melniker, said they would further effort to reach the governor personally. They will return to New York in the morning.

ANGLER

Glenn Seoby (Pop) Warner, famous football mentor of Stanford, waived football long enough to go to Pyramid Lake, Nev., where he snared a mess of spotted trout. Pop, as a football coach, may be some pumpkins but his trout were the smallest caught at Pyramid and he's in line for the resort's annual "small" trout trophy.

CUPID INTRUDES ON TALE OF EAR, COAST PAIR WED

Ears means nothing to Cupid, and Justice of the Peace Frank M. Ryan, as a loyal servant of the little god, recognizes Cupid's indifference to such mundane things.

The justice court room was cool with a breeze passing through from front to back, and the marrying justice was comfortably ensconced on the bench listening to the tale of a missing ear, from the mouth of the loser.

Of a sudden he glanced up, to spy an officer in the doorway making mysterious motions that could only be interpreted as indicating the appearance of two that wished to be made one.

There'll be a fifteen minute recess at this time," said the justice, as the narrator paused for breath, and the missing ear was relegated to the background while the ceremony was performed.

Lyman P. McHarg, of Hinsdale, Ill., and Alice L. Childs, Claremont, California, were the couple married, with Helen Gillespie and Randolph M. Arnold as the witnesses. The couple left immediately to return to California.
