Geo. W. "Molly" Malone, guest of the club, gave an interesting talk. Although the Legion convention is over, Malone is not through talking about it. He said: "It was the greatest convention, I believe, the Legion ever held in the state. The trip over the Hoover dam project was a real treat, especially to the boys from the northern part of the Speaking of the benefits to be derived from the dam, Malone said "the greatest benefits will come after the dam is completed. He substantiated this statement by calling attention to the possibilities of electro-chemical plants adding between twenty and thirty millions of taxable property to the state.
