BOULDER MERCHANTS WALLOP RECLAMATION TEAM, 9 TO 5

The Boulder City Merchants, with ? their revamped lineup which includes several Las Vegas castoffs, walloped the Reclamation team yesterday to the tune of 9 to 5.

They displayed a brand of ball that made the fans sit up and take notice, with speed enough to make them hard to beat by any team in the Twilight league.

Although the Reclamation team scored 5 runs, Allison, moundsman for the Merchants, allowed only two hits. Both hits were bagged in the fourth inning, when Jacobs connected for a double, scoring two men that had been walked ahead of him. High followed with a single, bringing Jacobs home. The other two runs, although not earned, were counted just the same. ing point of the game came in the second inning when Davis for the Merchants banged out a circuit clout with the bases loaded. Corlew and Daly came through in usual form, both connecting for a triple

FIND LIQUOR CACHE IN CHURCH

Federal officers were puzzled as to the source of liquor dispensed in the area near Ash Fork and Perscott, Ariz. They nosed about and discovered, much to their surprise, that the supply was coming from a deserted church near Ash Fork. The church, together with liquor seized in the bell-tower and attic, is shown above.

HELPMATES

CHANNEL MARKERS

In the earlier days of this country, spending the family budget used to be a hazardous business. It was only by harsh experience that a householder learned to steer clear of bad bargains and come into port with his money's worth.

There were snags and shoals aplenty. Inferior goods and unscrupulous merchandising methods made the channel dangerous. "Let the buyer beware" was an accepted slogan of trade.

Fortunately for consumers, this condition has wholly changed in more recent years. The channel has been charted. Today advertised, trade-marked goods of known value are for sale in every city and hamlet. The buyer knows he can trust such products. He reads the advertisements in his paper, chooses the commodities he needs, and makes his purchases with the knowledge that he will get full value for his outlay.

The advertising columns of this newspaper point the way to satisfaction. If you make it a habit to read them daily you will save money, and save time.
