GRANT OPENS NEW BLOCK TODAY

Rising as the newest business enterprise in Las Vegas, the new A. C. Grant building at Third and Fremont streets, a monument to the business talents of Archie Grant, a Vegan for many years, will formally open today. Featuring an up to the minute one-stop station, including complete service for the vending of the best Shell gas and oils, the station is hailed as an addition to Las Vegas' facilities for the motoring public in a splendid location.

In addition, there is a completely equipped grease rack for lubricating service, including the latest type of high pressure greasing equipment.

In addition to the main floor business space, a wing facing on Third street has a second story, the upper floor of which is devoted to office space for the A. C. Grant organization. The offices are exceptionally well lighted and airy.

MANY PRESENT AT OPENING OF TOWER, NO. THREE

Hundreds of people swarmed into the new Tower Market today in North Las Vegas as the new establishment was thrown open to the public for the first time.

Prepared for a rush, the new stores distributed candy and balloons to youngsters and free food samples to housewives. Many times during the day the place was so filled that it was nearly impossible to move, according to those who went shopping.

Previous to the opening, the Tower Mercantile corporation had promised to "beat Los Angeles prices on the opening day," a feat which was generally conceded to have been successfully and completely accomplished yesterday morning.

The same specials as advertised in The Age Friday morning, will remain in effect all day today, the management announced last night.

If Fred Kutcher will call at The Age office, he will receive a free ticket, good for today only at the Airborne theater.

ON PARK TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hergert, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Seymour and daughter, of Mineral Wells, Tex., spent yesterday in Las Vegas on business and visiting Hoover dam. They were en route to Salt Lake City and the Utah Parks where they will spend the next four weeks. The Texas party were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Werle Smith of this city.
