KINGMAN-BOULDER MAIL ROUTE PROPOSED BY ARIZONA GROUP; BAND CONCERTS ARE PLANNED

Discussion of a possible new mail route between Boulder City and Kingman, Ariz., occupied last night's meeting of the Boulder City Merchants association, when two delegates from the Kingman Chamber of Commerce visited the merchants for the discussion. The Kingman visitors pointed out that through establishing such a route, 24 hours could be saved on east bound air mail, and seven hours could be saved on west bound air mail. The discussion was continued until further investigation of the matter could be made by local business men. Another matter brought to the attention of the Merchants association was the possibility of having weekly band concerts in the park across from the postoffice. T. G. Newland was appointed chairman of a committee to raise funds for the purpose of having the concerts.

RECOGNITION OF MANCHUKUO SEEN

TOKIO, June 22. (U.P.)—Japan's war council, meeting today, was told by War Minister Sadao Araki that the nation probably will recognize the Manchukuo government before September. The campaign probably will end next month, he declared.

HOOVER SUGGESTS ARMAMENT CUT

a tense and often-times dramatic session of the general commission. Gibson said the plan was intended to "fire the imagination of the world" and to move the disarmament conference toward its goal. He asked the delegates to study carefully this plan, formulated by the man who a year ago inaugurated the debts moratorium project. But the general opinion expressed informally in excited corridor conversations, was that the plan could never be accepted by Europe in its present form, especially without meeting the French security demands. The plan, laying down five broad principles, called for: Reduction by one-third of the treaty tonnage and number of battleships; by one-fourth of the treaty tonnage of aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers; by one-third of the tonnage of submarines, with limitation of each nation to 35,000 tons of submarines. Gibson estimated the United States was prepared to scrap more than 300,000 tons of existing ships and forego the right to build 50,000 tons.

When the light is on in the pit under the press, it shines in a nice pathway right across the white web, and Snowball, coal-black Age cat, picks it for a well lighted promenade, effectively punching a series of holes in the tightly stretched paper which invariably cause a break just as the press gets under way to turn out your late news hot off the press.

Incidentally, the staff's favorite pastime in the afternoon, is to watch Snowball dozing in the shade of the oleander in the garden, with irrigating water flowing slowly around him, gradually reaching his nose... at which point he invariably wakes with a yowl, and makes the porch rattling in one bound.

AROUND the TOWN

(Continued from Page 2) about the pup a close friend of mine donated just before leaving town the other day. "I have a hunch the dog was given me because of his bad house department, but since he's but six weeks old, and about the size of a ten cent glass of beer, maybe he can be cured. We're going to name him 'Tabloid' if the storm and strife can be persuaded."

And then there's the terrier that waits every evening at the corner of Fourth and Bonnevill for cars to come along either of the streets. When one comes, he chases it out of his territory, with much profane threatening in dog language, as to just what will happen if that car ever comes back. Then, at about nine every evening, he considers his protective duties fulfilled, and trots homeward, his tail held high in the air with a sense of a duty well done.

Well, we have finally found out what is causing the all-too-frequent "web breaks" on the Age press. The web, in case you don't know, is the wide strip of newsprint as it feeds through the press, to receive the type impression, and later

DO YOU INHALE?

Millions say
we hit the "nail on the head"
when we asked this question!

OKAY AMERICA!... you wanted the facts and we've given them to you—even though the truth has shocked the cigarette trade! Inhaling is the very core of all cigarette discussion. For we all inhale—knowingly or unknowingly... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. Do you inhale? Let other cigarettes keep an embarrassed silence if they will!

Lucky Strike can openly raise the issue. Luckies assure you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by that famous purifying process.
