Gala Program Arranged By Local B. P. O. E.

Trips to the dam, street dancing, badger fights, boxing, banquets, meetings and a grand ball have all been successfully arranged to entertain the delegates to the Elks State Convention which will hold forth next week beginning Thursday, October 11, according to Carl Belding, member of the arrangements committee.

The convention will be officially opened October 11, at 10 o'clock by the State President, S. H. Cooper, with business meetings in the morning. Badger wearers will be admitted free in the afternoon to both the Palace and El Portal theatres. In the evening a badger fight and street dancing will conclude the first day's activities.

The high spots for Friday include ritualistic contests during the day and street dancing and boxing at the Legion stadium in the evening.

An inspection of the dam workings, tour of Boulder City and lunch, under the auspices of the Boulder City Stray Elks will occupy the morning hours of the third day of the convention.

A banquet in the evening at the Eagle hall at 6:00 p. m., a parade at 7:00 p. m., street dancing at 8:00 p. m. and a grand ball at the Elks hall at 9:00 o'clock will conclude the 3 days of festivity.

The committee in charge of the arrangements reports that plans are coming along in "tip-top shape." Those responsible for the program include: Eugene Goldstucker, Roy Griffiths, Art Harris, Carl Belding, and Tom Enright.

DAM BUILDERS IN BIG SUIT

Six Companies yesterday were made defendants in a suit for $77,700.00 as the outcome of alleged injuries received by Clarence Charles Mendall while working on the Boulder Dam project.

In the suit, which was filed by Attorney Harry Austin, Mendell charges that while working for Six Companies between the dates of June 20, 1932 and April 18, 1933 in the tunnels of the project he was disabled from the fumes of monoxide gas. Mendell asks $50,000.00 general damages, $25,000.00 punitive damages and $2,700.00 for the loss of his time. Mendell was a truck driver on the work in the tunnels.

Associated with Attorney Harry Austin in the suit are attorneys Clifton Hildebrand, prominent Oakland lawyer and Louis E. Goodman of San Francisco.

Defendants in the suit are: Six

The Crosby Trio

IMPORTANT DELEGATES

Among important delegates to the B. of L. F. & E. convention were: Mrs. Agnes G. Strong, Worthy Grand President of Boone, Iowa. Mrs. Hazel DeJarnatt, Grand Instructress of Fresno, California, Mrs. Stena Ward, former Grand Vice-President of Sparks, Nevada. Mrs. Carmen Dyke, Grand Instructress, of Albuquerque, New Mexico and D. B. Robertson of Youngstown, Ohio. All of the above were speakers at the Wednesday morning session at the El Portal theatre.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Isabella McChrystal, who has been spending the summer in San Jose is expected at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo McNamee the last of the week. Mrs. F. R. McNamee of Los Angeles is also expected to spend the coming week at this hospitable home.

Companies, Frank Crowe, general superintendent; Woody Williams, assistant superintendent; Frank Bryant, Glenn Morrison and Carl Collett, all foremen on the work.

It is expected that the case will come to trial before a jury in the January term of the district court.

E. C. McDonald, U.P. Employee Passes

E. C. McDonald, for more than thirty years a valued employee of the U. P. company, died at his south Third street home Friday, September 28. Mr. McDonald had been alling for some time and had but recently returned from the coast where he, with his wife, spent the summer. The end came quite peacefully Friday from heart trouble.

Fearful that his condition might be serious, two of his daughters, Mrs. Walter McCall of Burbank and Mrs. Christie McClement of Oregon, had arrived to be with their father. They, with Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Otto Westlake, another daughter are left to mourn the passing of a devoted husband and father.

Mr. McDonald was a native of Indiana, but had spent many years in Nevada. He was stationed at Yermo and Moapa before coming to Vegas, where he lived for the past fifteen years.

Funeral services were conducted by the Modern Woodmen of America Sunday afternoon at the M. E. church.

4-H CLUBS PLAN FAIR FOR COUNTY

Nearly one hundred and fifty Clark county 4H club boys and girls are working like so many bees to put over their first 4H club fair, to be held at Bunkerville, Saturday, October 27, 1934.

Preparations for the event are being directed by Fern Adams, president of the Executive committee, Lois Tobler and Alta Hardy, associate directors. These three are making all preparations for building and ground requirements. Elfine Hardy, secretary and treasurer, and Beth Leavitt and Millie Abbott, assistants, are working out all the details of the program, to consist of exhibits and educational and entertaining features. Sylvia Pulsipher and Erma Abbott are in charge of financing the affair.

Cooperating with the foregoing, all of whom are regular 4H club members, are the 4H club leaders: Mrs. Harmon C. Tobler of Bunkerville, Clark County Farm Bureau director and chairman of the county 4H club work, assisted by Mesdames Harley Adams, Ralph Huntsman and Nathan Abbott of Bunkerville; Mesdames Wm. E. Abbott, Anthon Abbott, Heber Hardy, Millie Abbott, and Mr. Earlin Tobler of Mesquite; Vernon Mills of Logandale; Mesdames Albert Jones, Fay Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Alma Shurtliff and Maurice Nuttal of Overton; Mrs. Ruth Bradford, Mr. Bert Whitney and Mr. Clyde Bunker of Las Vegas.

The people of the Virgin valley towns, both Mesquite and Bunkerville are cooperating in splendid fashion, confident that the event will measure up to all expectations.

The Virgin Valley High School music department, with its 40 piece band and 10 piece orchestra, will furnish the music during the events of the day and for the dance in the evening, for which invitations will be extended to the Moapa valley, Las Vegas, Lincoln County and the communities of southern Utah.

BANKS CASE IS SET FOR JAN. 15

After getting the case of the state of Nevada against Kenneth Banks underway in the district court Thursday the court was faced with an odd situation. The entire venire of jurors had been exhausted before a jury had been selected to hear the case. Judge Eather instead of putting the state to the expense of holding those jurors who had been accepted until another venire could be called, dismissed the proceedings underway and set the case over until January 15th, 1935.

Banks is charged with manslaughter resulting from the death of Tom Holly on the Boulder Dam highway last summer in an automobile accident.
