

B. of L. F. & E. End Convention With Trip and Drills

Several hundred delegates from the B. of L. F. & E. made a tour of Boulder dam and vicinity this (Friday) morning afterwards lunching at Anderson's mess hall. An inspection of the dining room and kitchen facilities was an added feature of the morning.

Tonight will see the official close of the convention with competitive drills at the high school gym at 8:00 p. m.

Highlights in Thursday's activities included the banquet at the Apache cafe at which more than 200 were present. A pleasing feature, and unusual for a banquet, was the absence of speeches. In as much as the day had been devoted to speeches and business meetings the evening was purely recreational. A dance at the Elks hall closed the program for the day.

Prominent speakers who were heard by the delegates throughout the convention included: Mayor E. W. Cragin, Mrs. Janie Barr, member of the Grand Executive Board, L. S.; Hon. Morley Griswold, governor of Nevada; Hon. Senator Pat McCarran; S. J. Lawson, president of Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce; F. E. Knickerbocker, general manager of L. A. & S. L. railway; Mrs. Carmen Dyke, grand instructress; Mrs. Agnes G. Strong, grand president; L. S.; D. B. Robertson, grand president of B. of L. F. and E; Mrs. Stena Ward, former grand vice-president; A. L. Coey, superintendent of L. A. division and N. E. McKinnen, trainmaster, Las Vegas.

The fifth annual West Coast Tri-State Union meeting will be held in Oakland.

Members of the local committee on arrangements put forth much effort to make the convention one of the best ever held in Las Vegas.

Comments from delegates indicate that their efforts were more than successful. Those responsible for the success included: Claude F. Bailey, chairman; H. Metteuci, T. F. Mildren; R. A. Richart; H. J. Healy; F. E. Hunt; D. B. Slade; Elizabeth Bailey, vice-chairman; Josephine Johnson; Rose C. Ullom; Florence Gallagher; Hazel Gibbons and Ethel Smith.
