It won't be long now until the votes will be counted—and we can rest at ease for another four years—while the successful candidates do everything but what they promised on bended knees to do. Seems as tho the northern candidates don't think we have many votes in the south, at least they don't get down here very often to make their promises. In Reno the fight between the two principal gubernatorial candidates is getting off to a good start. After listening to the fireworks they are shooting back and forth you get the idea that they are both robbers and no good whatever—when we all know that they are both pretty good men.

Senator Key Pittman is expected in Las Vegas very soon on his campaign. Pittman is one man that really does not have to make a campaign. During the primary campaign Pittman was a busy man with national affairs so his "good friend" Kingfish McCarran, junior Senator from Nevada, donated his services to help Key "out." The Kingfish can be credited with the wonderful vote given Pittman at the primary election. The only opposition Pittman had is Molly Malone, who, when the votes are counted, will find out how popular he is—or rather isn't. No wonder the big betting odds on Pittman.

One Clark County man that deserves the unanimous vote of the people of both parties is J. T. McWilliams, candidate for county surveyor. McWilliams is one of the oldest residents of Clark County, having come here in 1894. He is one of the true pioneers of this section of the country and is more than qualified to take care of the office he seeks.

Sheriff Joe Keate is a sure winner for reelection. With the anti-Keate vote being split up between three candidates there is not much for Joe to worry about. Joe Keate is a good officer and should win with a majority of over 1500 votes.

David Farnsworth, republican, for County Recorder and Auditor, is one of the republican party that can be sure of election. Dave has been one of the most efficient county officers ever to occupy the post he now holds.

There are few people in Clark County that do not know Herb Krause, republican nominee for the office of County Clerk. Herb is one other republican that we pick to occupy a seat in the county court house the first of the year. Lloyd Payne, democratic nominee, is ace high in standing—but has a hard contest to defeat Krause.

Fred Alward, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, is considered to have that job with a few thousand votes to spare. We can count on Fred to see that Clark County gets a square deal on state affairs. Up state betting gives Alward odds of two to one.

Guy Baker, prominent attorney, is making a determined fight for the office of district attorney. Baker will get a big vote from the democratic party as well as from the republican.

One of the closest fights on the ticket will be that between Tom Carroll and Marion Earl for the office of Justice of the Peace. Both are fine men and well qualified for the office. When the votes are counted there will not be many to spare either way.

Reese Morgan, candidate for Constable, is going to poll a vote that will surprise the natives. Reese has been a resident of Clark County for many years and a police officer almost as long. He is a good citizen and should receive the vote of both parties.

Victims in Triple Slaying

W. R. McDaniels, left, state traffic patrolman, who was shot to death by Nick Turchinetz, drink-crazed Chico, Cal., jeweler. On the right is Mrs. Jane Turchinetz, wife of the slain man, with her daughter, Olga. Turchinetz shot McDaniels and Kenneth Davis, garage mechanic, before he was slain by a posse.
