Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be thus regulated to suit individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a more natural movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is obtainable at all druggists.

Morley Griswold

Stands On His Record

In Opening His Campaign, Acting Governor Griswold Says:

ON BOULDER DAM POWER—

"Do you realize that the biggest melon that will ever be cut in the history of the State of Nevada is about to be cut in Southern Nevada; that we have coming from contracts already signed by the United States Government and the Department of Reclamation, when the power is turned on the Boulder Dam, over $600,000 per year? That money can be used for the benefit and betterment of the State of Nevada, but that is not the melon that is to be cut.

"In addition to this amount, the State of Nevada has 18% of the power that will be generated at that dam. That power can be used by the State of Nevada for the development of all Nevada for the bringing in of taxable property, for the establishment of factories, for the development of our mines, for the development of our lands.

ON BANK REORGANIZATION—

"I did nothing in the bank reorganization for which I am ashamed, nor have I done anything for which I am sorry, although the bank reorganization cases cost me more than six months of my time and over $3,000 of my own money. So far as I was able, I had done all possible to accomplish this: That there would have been paid to the seventeen thousand depositors of the Wingfield banks three and one-half million dollars in cash immediately, one million coming from Transamerica for the good assets sold to them, two million dollars from the R.F.C. on a loan that they had agreed, in writing, to make, and $500,000 from our friends in California who desired to see reorganization, and the depositors would have retained in their own control twelve million dollars of the slow and doubtful assets which included good assets like homes that were slow pay.

"It is one thing to come into the State of Nevada to help out those banks, and it is an entirely different thing to come into the State of Nevada, making an advantageous purchase of one bank and then open banks where the closed Wingfield banks were located. I am stating facts—you draw your own conclusions.

"Do you know that there have been already proposals made to the State of Nevada by the power trust that that power be turned over to that power trust; and do you realize that a governor sympathetic with big business, with the requests of the power people, can do much to further that end? In this particular election, we are not fighting for merely political glory—we are fighting for the very welfare of the State of Nevada and its future.

"As long as I, Morley Griswold, am Governor of the State of Nevada, there never will be a disposal of that 18% of the power to any member of the so-called power trust. That is the property of the State of Nevada and should be so retained, and all its benefits retained for all the people of the State.

ON CORPORATION TAXES—

"You don't have to guess as to how I stand with reference to railroad matters and the public utilities because, since I have been acting governor of the State of Nevada, I have been called upon, as chairman of the tax commission, to pass upon their requests for a reduction of taxes.

"You will find my statement that the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific should not have their taxes reduced. I am of the opinion that they are not paying more money in proportion than are the home owners and the small business men and the farmers and the ranchers. I opposed reducing their taxes. It is a matter of record and you don't have to take my word for it.

ON LABOR—

"Labor must be aided in this state. I have perfected plans, and promise that I will make an additional saving to the taxpayers in this State in the care of our aged and infirm. I have made myself clear in this respect, and I will keep faith.

"Among those hardest hit have been the railroad workers. We have come to the time now where we must aid them further and we must protect them in their hazardous occupation. I subscribe heartily thereto, and I will carry into effect, the plank in the Republican party platform covering this matter. This is said without hesitation or without evasion.

"I have been accused of hustling or bustling, or words to that effect, at the Winnemucca convention. Of course, I hustled. I wanted to have in that platform such planks as would best benefit the people of the State of Nevada. If the acting governor of the State of Nevada did not take a part in matters intended for the benefit of the State, then, I say, I would have been negligent and derelict in my duty.

"When labor trouble was brewing in Las Vegas, at the Boulder Dam, the first one they called for was Morley Griswold, and I traveled 1,000 miles or more to learn what was happening and what I could do. The employes and the employer both authorized me to make the public statement that they were entirely satisfied with my action, in satisfactorily settling the matter without loss of time or money, and both authorized me to make that statement in the public press, and I did so. This may sound egotistical again and bragging, but I have never been able to find where the news item was carried in the Reno evening newspaper. Some of the "little mouthpieces"—as the interior press was dubbed by that paper—were kind enough to publish it. If this plain statement of fact is slinging mud, then Morley Griswold is guilty.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS—

"In the short seven months as acting governor I have gotten, from federal funds, over $2,000,000 for the State of Nevada, without the State advancing a cent. I fought the federal government against a special session of the legislature. We are one of the few states that has received this aid without advancing State money to match federal funds.

"The drought relief. Do you realize that I have saved thousands of head of cattle and sheep and farms and taxable property for the State. The people interested know that I am entitled to credit, with our congressional delegation for those accomplishments.

"And regarding the Truckee river and Tahoe water situation: I made a talk before one of the service clubs in Reno about the Tahoe and Truckee water situation, and it got some publicity, and I was told that 'it was good politics, anyway. We have all tried that and none of us have ever been successful,' or words to that effect; but, notwithstanding that, I said I was going to get that water if I had to go to the highest authority in the land, and that's where I did go before I was through and I don't want all the credit.

"People in Reno saw flowing down through their beautiful city a bountiful stream of water in place of white rocks and dry river-bed, and the farmers and ranchers, and the Truckee Meadows, obtained that benefit without the expenditure of a cent of money."
