

FARM RECORD SCHOOLS SCHEDULED FOR NEVADA

A series of schools to assist Nevada ranchers in keeping farm accounts will be held in many parts of the state early in the winter, according to Professor V. E. Scott of the University of Nevada Agricultural Extension service.

Beginning sometime in December, the meetings will be concluded before the first of the year, so that farmers may utilize the new methods with the start of 1935.

Schools are planned for Douglas, Churchill, Lyon, Washoe, White Pine, Elko and Lincoln counties, Scott says.

Introduction of the farmers to the new farm account book of the Federal Agricultural Adjustment Administration and instruction in its use is the major purpose of the schools, according to the extension man.

Devised to assist farmers in the keeping of records in connection with the government's adjustment control programs, the book has been expanded until it now forms a basis for the farmer in his efforts to cope with management problems.

All told, it is expected that 1,200 copies of the books will be used by Nevada farmers, and this number will be distributed to the farmers at the schools and by other methods.

Follow-up schools will be held twice during 1935, Scott says, one being scheduled at the end of each semi-annual period. At these meetings, the farmers will go over their books, bringing all accounts up-to-date.

DAN W. FRANKS FOR STATE TREASURER

One of the most deserving candidates at the coming election is Dan W. Franks, Lincoln County Treasurer, who would replace George B. Russell as Custodian of the funds of the state of Nevada. No don't run away folks, this isn't a political dissertation, rather it's a story of a "real guy" who has bucked his way thru a lot of opposition of the sort that would have scared out less courageous person, and is now well on the way toward the top.

Dan has the distinction given only a few aspirants for the office in Nevada sharing with Senator Pat McCarran the honor of being a native Nevadan. He was born in Pioche in 1897, and was the youngest of five children when his father died in 1899. A courageous mother kept the little family together despite all odds, and as soon as Dan was old enough he started doing his bit to bring in money thru odd jobs to contribute to the family exchequer.

He graduated from Pioche Grammar school and immediately went to work in the Amalgamated Pioche Mining and Smelting Corporation as warehouse clerk. He worked there long enough to save up sufficient funds to put him thru high school and since there were no advanced grades in Lincoln County then, he went to Los Angeles high, from which he graduated in three and a half years.

In 1917 he became a clerk in the Bank of Pioche, and advanced to the post of assistant cashier where he served for several years. In 1923 he was elected County Treasurer without opposition, and has been chosen unanimously for the same post on two succeeding occasions. He is married and has four children.

In addition, Franks is a fine, likeable chap, capable and honest. He has been a member of the democratic party since he first entered politics and has Lincoln County

THOMAS A. LOTZ, Surveyor General

Thomas A. Lotz, better known as "Tom Lotz," has served the people of this State as Surveyor General and State Land Register during the past six years and he has given accurate, reliable and prompt service at all times. Said office has long existed and many and varied have been those who have served therein, but never in its history has there been a more competent and better qualified public servant to carry on the work thereof than Tom Lotz.

He is a civil engineer, thoroughly familiar with public land surveys, understands the state and federal land laws, has a fair knowledge of the mining laws, and with his long service in said office makes him solidly behind him for the office. If you're looking for the next state treasurer, shake hands with Dan Franks of Pioche. He has worked hard, deserves it, and being the sole democratic candidate is almost certain to get it.

well equipped to discharge the many and varied duties that must be taken care of therein.

He has made extensive study of the land conditions in the State and is ever ready to give advice and his views thereon to the many persons who are constantly seeking information relative thereto, so that with comparatively accurate knowledge on such matters and of the existing conditions, it is his policy to supply nothing but facts and reliable data thereon.—It has been this fair and square method of conducting his office that has always brought him plaudits of the people and it is such esteem and honesty that has brought him just recognition as a fair and reliable public servant.

Such men as Tom Lotz are the type of officials who push forward because the citizenry know full well they are always dependable to serve the State and the people in a constructive manner. Tom Lotz has proven to be the right man in the right place and he should be re-elected and retained in his present position.—Pol. Adv.
