WIRES BURN MEN

Severe burns were received by W. H. Hendry and J. E. Dubravac while testing a high voltage wire in the reverberatory of Nevada Consolidated Copper corporation in McGill. A blinding flash seared Hendry's face, chest, hands and ankles. Dubravac, not so close to the wires, sustained burns on the face and hands. Both men were taken to a company hospital for treatment.

JOLLY STOPS OIL TRUCKS TILL NEVADA DRIVERS EMPLOYED

Tom Jolly, as travelling supervisor for the re-employment survey, on Wednesday tied up the oil trucks on the Olaf Nelson road contract out of Alamo until the drivers, Utah labor, were replaced by Nevadans.

The trucks were hauling oil from Moapa to Alamo, using Utah drivers in violation of the contract. Jolly stopped the machines and held them until local men, Nevada labor, replaced the drivers who had been operating the trucks.
