Education Week November 5 to 11

The week of November 5 to 11 will be "American Education" week, according to an announcement made at Thursday's meeting of Las Vegas Rotary club.

President Marion Earl also announced that on November 15 there will be a most unusual "Joint Meeting" of the Rotary clubs of Schnectedy, New York and Buenos Aires, Argentine, the clubs to be linked together by short wave radio.

The time of the broadcasts will be between six and seven o'clock P.M., on November 15, and the wave length on which each station will be heard will be announced later. It is proposed that the Las Vegas club shall hold its regular meeting at the same hour, and for its program, tune in on the two broadcasting clubs.

Squires Undergoes Major Operation

James W. Squires, managing editor of The Age, is today resting as comfortably as could be expected, following a major operation for stomach ulcers. He was stricken with a severe attack Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock and was immediately taken to the Las Vegas hospital.

Dr. Woodbury diagnosed the case, and an immediate operation was found necessary. The operation, performed by Dr. Woodbury, assisted by Dr. Garrison, and with Mrs. Brown administering the anesthetic, lasted from 6:10 to 8:20 Wednesday evening.

The condition of the patient is excellent, considering the severity of the operation, and an early recovery is confidently expected.

Pittman Plans Radio Address

Senator Key Pittman announces that he will broadcast a message to the citizens of Nevada over station KSL, Salt Lake City, Sunday evening, November 4.

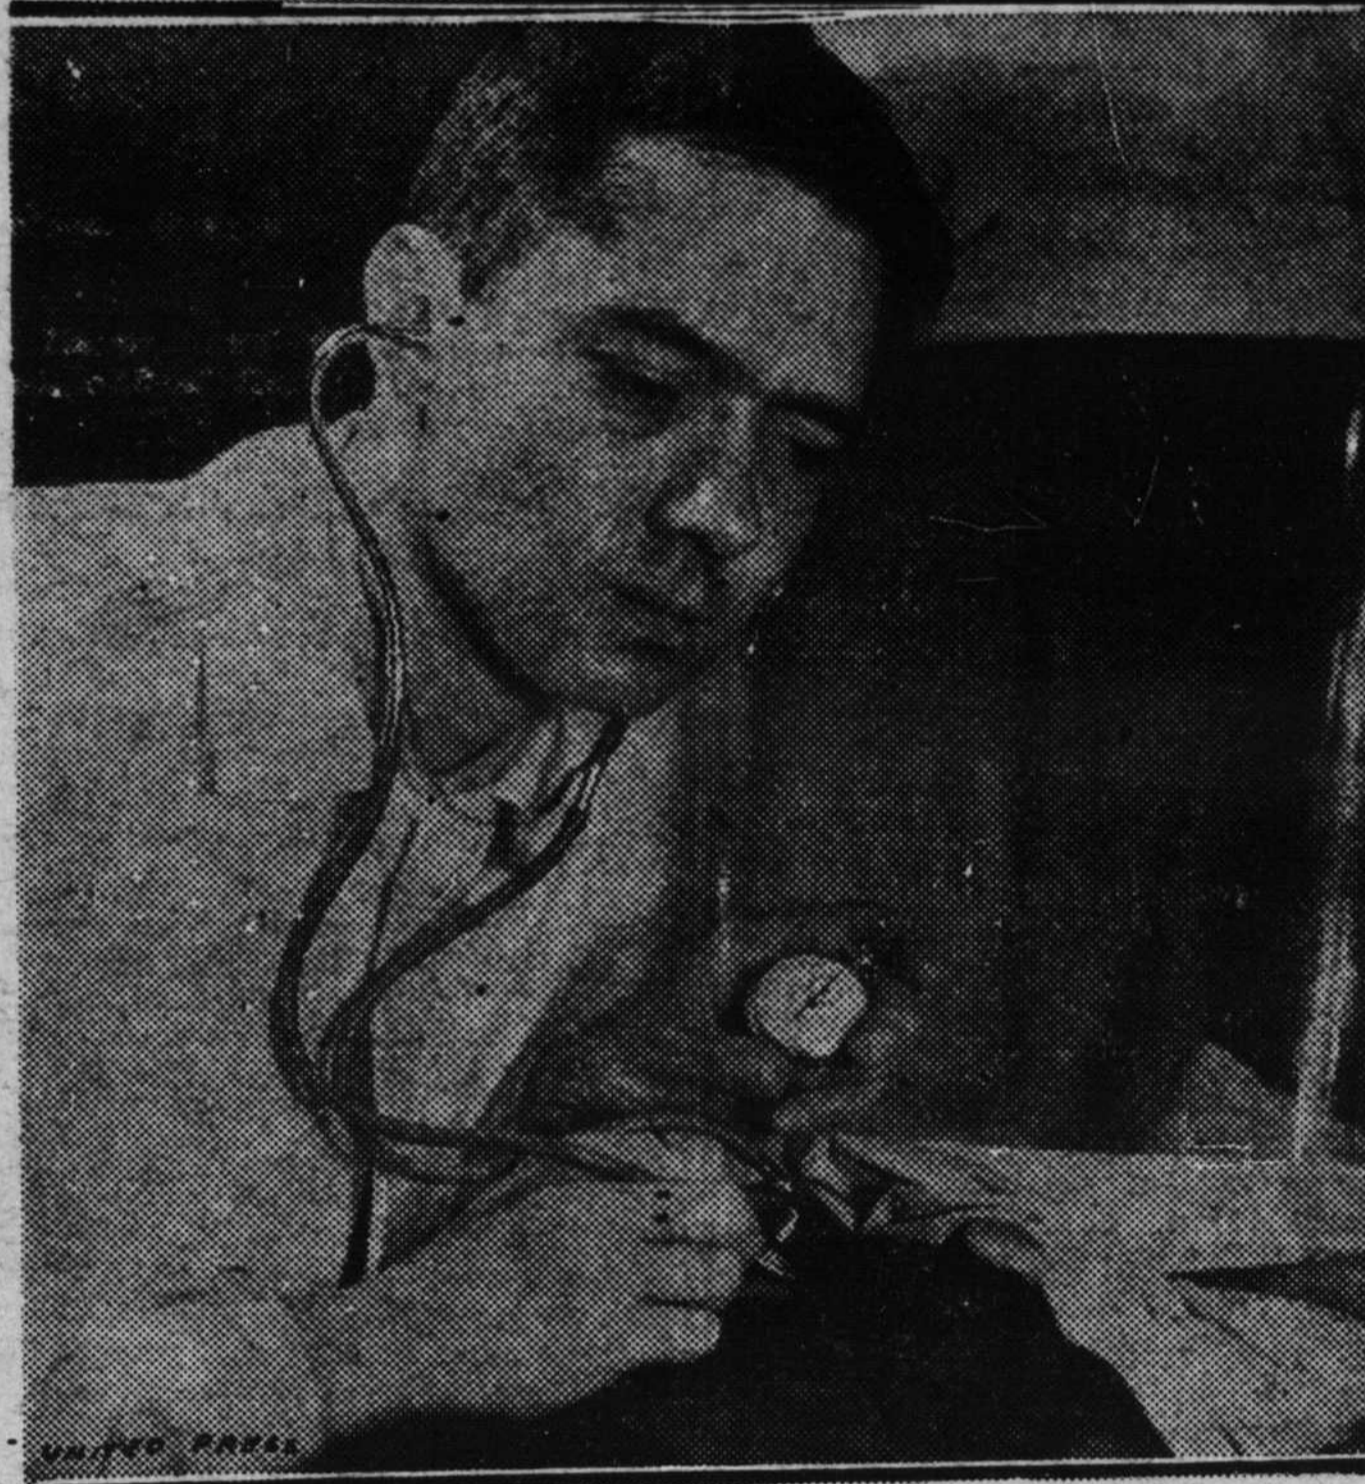

The broadcast will begin at 9:00 p. m. and will last until 10:00 p. m., Pacific standard time.

Needles Service Application Filed

The Nevada Public Service Commission announces that Lee Speirs has made application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate passenger service between Las Vegas and Needles, Cal., via Searchlight. The applicant proposes to operate both intrastate and interstate between these points.

Parties desiring to protest this application should file their protest with the commission prior to November 5, 1934.

Lazarus Makes Movie Debut

Dr. Robert Cornish, noted Berkeley scientist, listens to the heart beat of Lazarus V, which indicates success in his experiment of bringing the dead back to life. Actual scenes of Dr. Cornish's feat in resuscitating a dog are being used in one of Hollywood's latest pictures.

Rotary Governor Guest At Club

District Governor Herb Walton, governor of this second district of Rotary International, the largest in the world, was the guest of honor at Tuesday's meeting of Las Vegas Rotary club. He made an eloquent address on the aims and objectives of Rotary International, which was received with enthusiastic applause by the members.

The work of the District Governor of this district is most exacting, there being 162 clubs in the district covering California, Nevada, Northern Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands. It is the ambition of Governor Herb to visit each one during his term of office.

Among other guests at the meeting was Walter W. Anderson, state superintendent of public instruction.

President Earl reported that Howard McMullen has succeeded in securing a school in the northern part of the state to teach. Howard has entirely recovered from his long illness according to the report.

An invitation was accepted from the Rotary Club at St. George to hold an inter-state meeting at St. George during the last week in December. Other clubs who are expected to send delegations are Kingman, Arizona, Needles, Calif., and Cedar City, Utah.

Previous meetings with the Utah Rotarians have been most enjoyable and it is expected that a large delegation from Las Vegas will attend the meeting and also enjoy the St. George race meet which will be held at the same time.

POLITICAL NEWS

By C. P. S.

Guy E. Baker, is not, perhaps, accomplished in the art of calling the attention of voters to himself. His natural and commendable disposition causes him to think in terms of policies and economics and results to be attained through the operation of the law, rather than of his own ambitions. So this is not, so far as Guy Baker is concerned, a campaign of personalities.

Therefore, Mr. Baker in his candidacy for the office of District Attorney, is viewing that office as a public trust rather than as a political plum. Among other things, he tells the voters that he intends to devote his entire time to the duties of that office, instead of turning them over to a deputy and that any private business will be secondary to that of the people.

In other words, Guy Baker is promising the voters to reduce the costs of operating the office of district attorney if he is elected. He promises to perform the duties in person and that he will not devote himself to private business or politics at the expense of the people.

A welcome change it would seem, to the harassed taxpayers.

HERB NEEDS THE JOB
Just because one needs a job is no good reason why one should be elected to office, especially if the candidate has demonstrated through long-years of service his ability to earn his own way under even the most difficult of situations.

Herb probably would not permit me to say this if he knew what I have in mind to say. But I am saying it of my own accord, not necessarily as a plea, but because the voters should know what manner of man they have before them as a candidate for County Clerk.

For years, some of us remember, the wife of Herb Krause was hopelessly ill. Yet with all that trouble and expense before and following her death, Herb never complained. He stuck by his job, practiced the most severe self denial, cared for his three motherless children and paid his bills. A splendid record of which any man would have the right to boast these days. Yet nobody ever saw him whimper, or admit defeat. In fact only a few of Herb's most intimate friends realized with what difficulties he has carried on during recent years.

Now the hundreds of friends of Herb Krause hope to help him to advance to a position of a little more profit and greater opportunities to serve the public than he has
