S. F. Engineers Make Inspection Tour of Damsite

A group of about 65 distinguished engineers of the San Francisco Bay region under the leadership of H.W. Crozier, one of the best known electrical engineers of the Pacific coast, arrived in Las Vegas early last Saturday morning, had breakfast here and were then taken to Boulder City by U. P. motor busses. At the Administration building they were greeted by Walker R. Young, and other officials of the U. S. Reclamation bureau and by officials of Six Companies Inc., and thence were conducted to the dam and shown over the work.

In the evening they enjoyed a most appetizing turkey dinner served by the ladies of Boulder City at the Community church. Guests from Las Vegas were O. A. Kimball, who carried the greetings of the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, Frank F. Gurside and C. P. Squires.

Dr. Emmet Rixford acted as toastmaster most happily. Among the speakers were Walker R. Young, who recounted some of the most interesting features of construction on the Boulder Canyon project. The employment preference for ex-service men has resulted in the employment of about 47 per cent of ex-service men at the beginning, the number declining to about 40 per cent at present. The peak of employment was reached last July when there were 5213 men at work. The number now employed is approximately 4500, Mr. Young said.

O. A. Kimball, speaking for the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, expressed the greetings and good wishes of that body toward Mr. Crozier and the engineers of San Francisco on this, the occasion of their third Boulder excursion.

Dr. John A. Fulton, director of the Mackay School of Mines at U. of N., read an interesting paper giving a long list of purposes to which the Nevada allocation of power may be profitably devoted. His paper is the result of extensive study of the subject during the past several years.

Dr. Rixford, in behalf of the visiting engineers, expressed their appreciation of his enterprise in organizing the excursions of San Francisco engineers to the dam, this being the third under his leadership.

Mr. Robertson, of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, spoke for Mr. Crozier, construction engineer, who was unable to be present. He gave a very interesting lot of facts and figures about construction of the great power transmission line now being built for the city of Los Angeles to carry Boulder Dam power. He also presented each of the guests with a small section of the hollow copper

New Job

Capt. Louis F. Thinbault, commander of the newly-completed U. S. naval ammunition depot in Hawaii, the largest ammunition dump in the world.

Conger Elected Member of C. of C.

Dr. E. H. Conger was, upon recommendation of the membership committee, elected to membership in the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce at the Tuesday meeting.

Dr. Conger, prior to his removal from the city about ten years ago, was long an active member of the chamber, and will find himself among old friends upon again attending the meeting of the chamber each Tuesday noon.

Food Industry Subject Rotary Program Thurs.

At the meeting of Las Vegas Rotary club Thursday noon, Joe Ronnow, program chairman for the day, introduced Gerald Nelson who gave a talking picture program sponsored by "Standard Brands, Inc." The program, showing the vast extent of the food industry and the important place in the economic life of the nation occupied by the grocer, was both interesting and instructive.

Doug Dishiel sponsored a five minute question and answer program on Rotary education. Tommy Thompson was congratulated for having made the best showing in attendance of the group of members for which he is monitor, having had a perfect record to date.

Walter Bracken reported that, notwithstanding the fact that the Las Vegas Rotary club cancelled its proposed excursion for last weekend, twelve members of that club arrived Saturday and were taken to the dam by Perc J. Nash, Archie Grant and himself, and then shown the works under personal direction of Frank Crowe.

Rebekah's Visited By State Officer

Mrs. Eleanor (E.C.) Mulcay last evening made her official visitation as President of the Nevada Rebekahs, to the Oasis Rebekah Lodge No. 21, of this city. Mrs. Ethel Potthoff, Mrs. Viola Burns and Mrs. Pearl Atherton had the arrangements in charge.

Following the meeting presided over by Mrs. Atherton as head of the local branch of the order, refreshments were served and an informal social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Mulcay has just completed her visitations to the Rebekah lodges at Tonopah and Goldfield and previous to that had toured the northern part of the state. She is accompanied on this trip by her husband, E. C. Mulcay, editor of the Sparks Tribune. They left Las Vegas Friday morning and will be at Pioche Friday night at Caliente

Wives Attend C. of C. Meeting

Guests at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce this week were Mrs. Jack Price and Mrs. R. K. Trout, who accompanied their husbands. It is becoming something of a pleasant habit for the wives of members to attend the Tuesday noon luncheons occasionally. It proves an interesting experience for the ladies and also gives the luncheon meetings a pleasant sociability which does not in anywise interfere with the more serious business of the meeting.

conductor which will carry the current.

New Secretary Chosen Tuesday C. of C. Meeting

Oliver Goerman, commander of the local post of the American Legion, and for several years past active in the community life of Las Vegas, was elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting last Tuesday.

The election was made upon the report of the special committee appointed to recommend a new secretary in place of Nye Wilson, whose resignation goes into effect January first when he enters upon his duties as secretary of the Alhambra, Cal., Chamber of Commerce. The committee, consisting of A. S. Henderson, chairman; James Cashman, Marion Earl, W. E. Ferron and O. W. Yates, after giving careful consideration to each of the seven applicants received and the qualifications of each applicant, were unanimous in recommending that Mr. Goerman be made secretary for the term of three months from January first with the understanding that the term may be extended indefinitely at the option of the Chamber. Mr. Goerman stated that this arrangement is perfectly satisfactory to him and that if he could not prove himself the right man for the place in three months he would prefer to be relieved.

The choice of Mr. Goerman by the committee was ratified both by a vote of the membership and the board of directors.

Secretary Goerman has had long experience in community activities, especially in St. Joseph, Mo., where he resided prior to coming to Las Vegas. He has been active in the affairs of this city since coming here in 1930. He has had the advantage of being closely associated with Nye Wilson, the retiring secretary, and of having thereby obtained a considerable knowledge of the duties of his new office.

APACHE CASINO BAR UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Carl Belding and Frank Housky became owners of the Apache Casino Bar, 122 Fremont street, Thursday. The bar, which is in the Apache Casino, adjacent to the Keno parlor, will be under the management of Carl Belding.

The many friends of the two wish them success in their new undertaking.
