

To Open Bridge At Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The Rocky Mountain states today swung into line to join the Cavalcades which will hit the Overland trail to San Francisco for the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta to be held May 27 to June 2 to celebrate the opening of the world's largest span.

From Cheyenne, Wyoming, came word that the city council, headed by Mayor Archie Allison, had voted to send a delegation of cowboys and cowgirls and a "Frontier Days" float for the Fiesta parades. They will be accompanied by Governor Leslie A. Miller of Wyoming.

Fifty Indians, from the Piute reservation in South Dakota, will also be in the Cavalcade coming from the Rocky Mountains, according to advices received by Harry Ridgway, chairman of the Cavalcades committee, from A. B. Harris, Fiesta field representative.

In addition, the city of Denver has appropriated funds to enter a huge floral float, which will depict Pike's Peak and the other lofty mountains of Colorado. Governor Teller Ammons of Colorado and Mayor Benjamin F. Stapleton of Denver will also come here for the Fiesta.

Ogden Utah, is going to send two covered wagons, a regulation stage coach of pioneer days, as well as an official float, Ridgway said. The stage coach will be driven by W. E. Cleveland, prominent business man, while a bevy of Utah belles will ride within. Mayor Harmon W. Perry will head the Ogden delegation.

"SCENIC TRAILS" WILL PUBLICIZE SCENIC WEST

Publication of 'Scenic Trails, a new national monthly magazine, covering the national forests, national parks and dude ranches out west, will begin with the April issue. Its purpose, as set forth by the publisher, Trails, Inc., Aurora, Illinois, is to bring the scenic beauty of mountains, forests, streams, lakes and flowers, and the wild life of the wilderness, in pictures, stories, facts and news, into homes, schools and libraries. Wisely to conserve and utilize nature's heritage of the wilderness, is the tenet of its editorial policy.

Largely pictures, Scenic Trails will present the west as it really is, a natural wonderland and playground for vacation-tourists, campers, trail riders, fishermen, hunters, nature lovers, skiers, and camera enthusiasts. According to government records, visitors to national monuments in 1936 numbered approximately ten million while those using the national forests for recreational purposes or passing through, totaled 71,648,499 people. In the six western forest regions, the total is in excess of fifty million.

BED ROCK

GEOLOGISTS tell us that even bed-rock moves. But it shifts so gradually that it makes a safe, sure base for the largest structure. This bank, too, is moving with the times. But the movement is always gradual, along predetermined lines. Every succeeding move has merely served to further strengthen and consolidate its underlying stability. Each year finds this bank in even better position to serve its many clients and depositors.
