Closing Days For Enrollment

Major Paul B. Robinson, CMTC officer of Fort Douglas, announces that the enrollment campaign for the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held at Fort Douglas, Utah, from July 1 to 30, 1937, is in its final week, and that young men between the ages of 17 and 25 who desire to enroll for the camp must submit their completed applications so as to reach the CMTC office, Fort Douglas, not later than the morning of June 3, 1937.

Major Robinson also announced that Staff Sergeant John Pool, on duty with the 30th Infantry at the post who was Sergeant Major of the encampment held last year, is again in charge of the Post CMTC office and will again be Sergeant Major of this year's camp.

The essential requirements for enrollment in the camp are that young men must be between the ages of 17 and 25, undergo and pass the required physical examination and furnish a certificate as to his moral character from a school teacher, clergyman or any other prominent and reputable citizen, who is personally acquainted with the candidate, and must be inoculated against typhoid fever and vaccinated against smallpox before they can be ordered to camp.

The Fort Douglas CMTC office has received many endorsements from civic clubs and prominent public officials on the Citizens' Military Training Camps—among them:

Governor Henry H. Blood of Utah: "Character building is recognized as an important objective in education, and the Citizens' Military Training Camp must for that reason take high place in the ranks of the nation's educational institutions. Establishment under wise guidance of proper and beneficial habits, voluntary obedience to intelligent discipline, contact with persons from many localities and walks of life, association with men imbued with like ambitions and aspirations to be of service to others—these and many other phases of Citizens' Military Training Camp training make camp life highly valuable to the individual and the citizenry. The annual training period at Fort Douglas affords a pleasurable experience and much more. I am glad to respond to the suggestion that I lend endorsement to this laudable and desirable activity of our federal government"

Prompt action may still enable two Clark county boys to receive the advantages and pleasures of attending the camp with all expenses paid. Application should be made immediately to Robert O. Weed of Boulder City, or W. C. German or C. P. Squires of Las Vegas.

Application blanks may be secured at The Age office.
