Do You Know - -

- That the average residential power bill for electric refrigeration only costs you from one to two dollars a month, depending upon size and design?
- That these are average figures for the hot summer months and that the cost is substantially lower for the balance of the year?
- That there are many of the new models now on display at our office through the courtesy of your local dealer? He will appreciate your inquiry and will be glad to acquaint you with the many advantages of electric refrigeration.
