Dinsmore Makes Report On Oils

Sanford C. Dinsmore of the state department of weights and measures, has issued his annual report on "Petroleum Products Inspection."

To those engaged in the sale of gasoline or oils, as well as to motorists generally, the report is full of useful and interesting information.

CARS MUST STOP

With the return of school buses to streets and highways comes a word of warning to motorists from the Automobile Club of Southern California that they are required to come to a full stop whether meeting or overtaking a school bus that has stopped for pupils on the highway.

The vehicle code provides that "automobile drivers either meeting or overtaking a school bus halted on any highway outside of a business or residence district to load or unload pupils must come to a full stop and then proceed not faster than ten miles an hour for a reasonable distance." Public school buses are easily identified by their chrome yellow color and bear the words, "School Bus" on front and rear.
