

Pioche Shows Its Hospitality

ran, Junior Senator of Nevada. Men's quartette by Manning Keele, Murray Fullerton, Kay McAllister and Edwin Riding.

Presentation of Lincoln county Boy Scouts to visiting officials. Short response by congressional delegation and governor.

There were appropriate band concerts at various times through the celebration.

A baseball game, which most of the visitors were unable to attend because of other things being done, was part of the program.

Boy Scouts were helpful in directing the crowds and seating the people at the various events. At the beginning of each formal meeting the colors were escorted to the front by a group of Scouts.

Las Vegas was honored by Archie Grant, who was master of ceremonies at the two meetings and carried out the duties of introduction of guests in a most fitting manner. There was a good delegation from Clark county, it being variously estimated that between 100 and 150 persons from Las Vegas and the Moapa and Virginia valleys were present.

In the interim between the meetings, at noon Saturday, a free barbecue was served to the big crowd by the people of Pioche.

In the evening, beginning at six o'clock, the mining companies, under the leadership of J. H. Buehler, gave a sumptuous banquet to about one hundred of the distinguished guests at the Prince Consolidated mine.

Later in the evening the visitors were guests at the Legion boxing matches, at which a fine card was put on. Later there were two big dances, one at the Legion open air stadium and the other in the high school gymnasium, both of which were attended by hundreds of visitors and home people.

An unusual display of hospitality was the manner in which Pioche people opened their homes to those who were unable to secure hotel accommodations. And, to make sure that all had comfortable sleeping quarters, the committee had ten Pullman cars on the tracks at Callente for the free use of all guests not otherwise provided for.

Sunday there were more than fifty golf players in the tournament, representing Pioche, Ruth and Las Vegas, Nev., and Cedar City, Utah. Las Vegas had fourteen players on the course, part of whom played with other teams whose members were not present.

Pioche took first place in team playing. The best individual score was turned in by Kermit Krause, with a score of 68. Harold Drage of Pioche was second with a score of 70, and L. R. Ivins third with 71, all considered most excellent scores for the difficult and unfamiliar Pioche course.

Las Vegas players included Carl Krause, Kermit Krause, Herbert Krause, Dr. C. W. Woodbury, Dr. Roy W. Martin, Si Crandall, Dr. S. Gene Parks, W. E. Benedict, Oliver Gorman, Harvey Parvin, Harry Purcell, Judge W. E. Orr, Bill Morley and Ed W. Clark.

An outstanding pleasure extending through the two days of the celebration was the fine spirit of personal hospitality shown by all Lincoln county people toward the hundreds of visitors who thronged the streets night and day during the celebration.

Among those from Clark county who attended the celebration were County Commissioners Kenneth Earl, Earl Davison and George Hanson; District Attorney Roger Foley, Deputy District Attorney A. S. Henderson and Mrs. Henderson; County Relief Administrator O. K. Adcock, County Recorder David Farnsworth, County Assessor Frank C. DeVinney, Sheriff M. E. Ward and Deputy Ray Griffith, Ed W. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. McNamee, Francis McNamee, Miss Dalton Buck, C. P. Squires, Ralph Lowry of Boulder City, and a group from the streets night and day during the celebration.

Peace Officers Put On Program

Program chairman for the day, C. P. Squires, introduced Sheriff Eugene Ward and Chief of Police David Mackey as the speakers at the meeting of Las Vegas Rotary Club Thursday noon.

Sheriff Ward spoke briefly on the Pioche power celebration which he attended last Saturday.

Chief Mackey gave a most interesting thirty-minute talk on his twelve-week course of study at the "Police Academy" of the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C. He said in part:

"The school was established under a law passed in 1935 and receives a limited number of properly recommended officers, all expenses except the personal expenses of the students being borne by the government. One hundred and sixty-four different subjects pertaining to the prevention and detection of crime are taught by the school.

"The pupil is first given a course in the law so that an officer may recognize crimes of various kinds and be able to distinguish between offenses against state and federal authority.

"In the finger-printing department are eight million records on file, requiring the whole of the seventh floor of the department of justice building with a frontage of about two blocks on each side.

"The sixth floor of the building is devoted to records of lost or stolen property. A few of the other departments are the crime detection bureau, photograph department, chemistry department, ballistic department and others."

Illustrating the certainty of identification of guns by the ballistic department, Chief Mackey recounted the story of a man who was murdered by shooting with a rifle in the wilds of Alaska.

One of the suspects who possessed a 30-30 rifle was an ex-convict who was known to have been in the locality at the time of the murder. The other suspect was a seemingly harmless Esquimo boy who was arrested only because he also owned a 30-30 rifle.

The case looked black for the ex-convict, it being the general belief of local officers that he was the murderer. However, to make sure, the two rifles with the bullet which killed the murdered man were sent to the department of justice in Washington. There it was determined beyond any doubt that the bullet was fired from the gun of the Esquimo boy, who, being confronted with the evidence, readily confessed to the crime and was duly tried and punished.

Marksmanship is another matter to which the school devotes much attention, a period of very intensive training being devoted to the subject. Other courses, a description of which would take more time than the half hour available, were mentioned by Chief Mackey in closing his very interesting talk.

Ernie Cragin was named program chairman for the meeting of October 7.

President Frank Gusewelle appointed James Cashman, Harvey Luce and Dr. Roy W. Martin a committee to meet with committees from other organizations and discuss plans for a race meet this fall.

Joe Kelly, introduced by Coach Harvey Stanford, made a plea for support for the high school football team in their game with Carbon county high school of Price, Utah, to be played in Las Vegas, Saturday, October 2, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Leo McNamee was the lucky winner of the door prize for the day.

Ask Division Of U. S. Court

Under the leadership of Judge I. S. Thompson, the local Bar Association has started a movement to have the state of Nevada divided into two districts with a judge of the United States district court for each.

Members of the Las Vegas bar are of the opinion that justice will be expedited if there is a United States judge sitting in Las Vegas at all times, and that the press of business in the Reno and Carson City branches of the court, caused partly by the demand for the services of Judge Norcross in the San Francisco district, will be relieved.

The various local service clubs are to be asked to approve the plan.

Catholics Hear Bishop Gorman

The Catholics of Las Vegas and vicinity greeted Bishop Gorman of Nevada at a mass meeting held at the Legion Memorial auditorium last evening to voice approval of the Bishop's twelve-point program set in motion by the dinners recently held in various parts of the state.

Besides Bishop Gorman, the speakers were Father White of New York City, and E. W. Cragin and James Fleming of Las Vegas. Roger Foley presided as chairman of the meeting.

Sunday evening a meeting of the committee will be held at the rectory at which time captains and workers will be appointed to carry out the Las Vegas portion of raising $50,000 within the state. The fund will be devoted to a two-year program.

Ready to Dock

SHIPS in port are beehives of industry. Repairs are made; stores replenished; cargo unloaded and loaded. Derrick winches work twenty-four hours a day. As the "Santa Lucia" nears New York, the ship's carpenter greases the winches of the luxurious Grace Line ship.

To Investigate Directory Plan

A committee consisting of S. Gene Parks, chairman, and Paul J. Johnson and H. V. Young, was appointed by President Kimball at the Tuesday meeting of Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce to investigate and report on the city directory promotion now under way.

When the matter was brought before the Chamber several members spoke against the matter, declaring that in their opinion the promotion is not being properly conducted, and expressing the opinion that if a new Las Vegas directory is published the business men who support it by advertising should have some assurance that it will be accurate and complete.

Artist Gives Classic Music

Ervin Nyiregyhazi, internationally known pianist, more than justified the praise given him, when he played a program of the finest music of the world's masters at Memorial auditorium Monday evening.

The affair was sponsored by Clark County Voiture 306, the Forty and Eight. The artist was introduced by Dr. J. D. Smith and, thereupon, without the affectation which so often mars the performances of musicians, presented the following numbers:

- Rigoletto Fantaise ..... Verdi-Liszt
- Nocturne E Flat ..... Chopin
- Miserere from Il Trovatore.....
- .....Verdi-Liszt
- Serenade ..... Schubert
- Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2.....Liszt
- Humoresque ..... Rachmaninoff
- Reverie ..... Schuman
- Malaguena ..... Lecuona
- Song Without Words .....
- .....Tschaiakowsky
- Faust Waltz ..... Gounod
