

Teachers View Art Treasures

An exhibit of handwork, arranged by Mrs. Minnie Price, art teacher at the grammar school, was shown the teachers during Institute.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Park loaned a fine collection of Indian pottery. Part of it came from the "Lost City." Many of the pieces, beautiful in design, which were broken when found, were reassembled and patiently put together by the doctor. Their great age and the story which they bring from out the past made them especially interesting.

Mrs. F. F. Garside loaned a sampler over 150 years old. In the older days every girl embroidered a sampler—sometimes it contained the alphabet—sometimes a floral design, but more often a motto. The sampler was framed and hung in the parlor.

Mrs. Charles P. Squires loaned a quilt in the original rose of Sharon design, the roses and buds being stuffed with cotton. Two of the blocks were made by Mr. Squires' grandmother over 90 years ago. They were reproduced by Mrs. Squires who made and quilted the quilt. These are but a few of the antiques exhibited and there are also many beautiful works of art.

Three Highway Contracts Let

CARSON CITY, Nev., Oct. 28—Utah road contractors threw their "Cats" and bulldozers in low, pulled steady over the grade to Carson City, and levelled off three Nevada highway construction contracts yesterday afternoon, while the bidding equipment of 22 other contractors broke down. After receiving the checked and corrected figures submitted by the 24 bidders Wednesday afternoon the State Board of Highway Directors considered the bids and awarded contracts to the two Utah bidders at a meeting held in highway headquarters building this morning. The three projects, located in Clark, White Pine and Humboldt counties, approximate a total cost of $267,000, affecting 40 miles of construction work on the state's highways.

On the Clark county project which extends from approximately one-quarter mile southeast of Glendale to a point approximately 1.7 miles northwest on Route 7, having a length of 1.7 miles, Gibbons & Reed Company, of Salt Lake City, were low bidders with a figure of $48,761.40. Four others were in competition for this work which includes a short stretch of realignment, and a bridge over the Muddy River near Glendale at the junction between the Arrowhead trail and the U. S. 3 the north-south arterial for eastern Nevada.

Denton Hayes of the Highway department staff will act as resident engineer on this project.

On the state highway system in White Pine county from the Lincoln White Pine county line to approximately 2.35 miles northwest of the east foot of Connors Pass on Nevada Route Number 7, with a length of 29.318 miles, W. W. Clyde and Company of Springville, Utah, got the job with a low bid of $166,036.3. Ten other contractors were after this job.

GIVE LUNCHEON AT APACHE

One of the largest parties of the season was the luncheon given in the Apache Cocktail lounge Saturday afternoon by Mesdames W. N. Schuyler, C. S. Wenger, Jake Beckley and A. E. Cahlan. Fall flowers and Hallowe'en motifs brightened the tables and added much to a very happy occasion.

W. R. Parry of the headquarters staff has been assigned as resident engineer for the highway department.

On the third project awarded, W. W. Clyde and Company of Springville, Utah, was again successful with a low bid of $51,546.7. This work consists of grading, graveling and surfacing on Paradise hill in Humboldt county from a point near the junction of State Routes 8 and 8-B to approximately 10 miles northeast with a length of 10.035 miles.

E. W. McLeod of the department's staff will act as resident engineer.

Breakfast Room

In a home financed under the terms of the Insured Mortgage System of the Federal Housing Administration, the kitchen was designed to provide space for this breakfast room. This portion of the room is separated from the cooking part of the kitchen by low dish cupboards. A large living-dining room is used when there are guests.
