Studying Link To Searchlight

Last Tuesday the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce joined in the meeting at Searchlight to discuss the needed improvement of the highway connecting Las Vegas with Searchlight.

This Highway now turns off the Boulder highway at Railroad Pass. From this point the road is gravel surfaced and continues to be so the entire route to Searchlight and south to the state line.

It is desired that the road be completed to bring the needed tourist trade to this section as well as provide a means of transporting ore from the Searchlight district to smelters east and west. At the same time there will be opened a way for Imperial Valley produce that will shorten the route that they now have to use and make the shipment of these products faster and cheaper to the East.

One of the main topics of discussion was the fact that it would provide a road to Parker dam and to Boulder dam from the California Nevada state line. The tourists that want to see the Boulder dam and Parker dam then will have the opportunity to turn off at the state line in southern Ariona, continue on to Parker dam and then travel to the mammoth Boulder dam via Searchlight. After that they have a different route to return to their homes in southern California by way of Las Vegas via U. S. highway No. 93 or Kingman via U. S. route No. 66

This road will also open up closer routes to important Ariona cities of Phoenix, Prescott and others. It will help the mines in the Arizona districts to ship metallic and non-metallic ores to the smelters in the Boulder dam area. It will also connect the two great dams—Boulder dam and Parker dam.

The banquet was sponsored by Judge A. S. Gaines of Searchlight.

Visitors present from Las Vegas were President Otto Kimball of the Las Vegas chamber of commerce, Lieutenant Governor Fred S. Alward, Frank Gusewelle, president of the Rotary Club, Bob Kaltenborn, president of the Las Vegas Kiwanis club; Frank McNamee, president of Las Vegas Junior chamber of commerce; Oliver Goerman, secretary of the Las Vegas chamber of commerce; F. Las Vegas Rotarians were entertained at Thursday noon's luncheon by a program under direction of Bill Ferron, program chairman of the day.

The first number on the program was vocal music by three high school girls, Mary Francis Gusewelle, Marian Flower and Elizabeth Dawson, with Miss Gusewelle playing the accompaniment on the piano-accordion.

Mr. Ferron followed with an interesting talk on vocational service in Rotary.

Bill Lauer, assistant director of the noted Santa Monica Elks' band, played several selections on the clarinet, showing great proficiency on that instrument. He was accompanied by Prof. L. E. Rowe. Mr. Lauer was especially entertaining in his humorous rendition of "Way Down on the Swanee River," and his characterization of two old maids singing, "Because I Love You."

George W. Dow of Lone Pine, Cal., and Dr. M. E. Bird of Delta, Utah, were named to represent their respective states in the association. The terms of offices for all four named are for three years.

Two resolutions directly affecting the status of the national highway in Nevada were passed by the board and are expected to enhance the value of the route as a main east-west travel artery. The first resolution officially designated and approved the extension of the transcontinental route from Montgomery Pass via Yosemite and into San Francisco, while the second resolution urged the California Board of Public Works to officially designate the route by regulation highway signs and maps.—Tonopah Times.

Ogden to Play Here Tomorrow

The Ogden football team, touted as one of the strongest in Utah, will play against the Las Vegas Wildcats in this city tomorrow afternoon.

The game promises to be the most spectacular seen in Vegas this season. To offset the weight and strength of the Ogden line, Coach Harvey Stanford plans to put on a show of clever passing such as has never been seen before in Las Vegas.

The Wildcats are fully rested from their gruelling encounter with the Compton lads and are in good health and spirits for the big fight.

Las Vegas people should give the game their heavy patronage and thus show their appreciation of the fine ball the Wildcats have given this city throughout the season. This is the last game scheduled for Las Vegas.
