

Attractive English Design

This small brick house of modified English design, built in Denver, Colo., lends itself to an irregular and informal plan. Good light is provided through the group windows and ample wall space for the arrangement of furniture is thus cared for. By using one end of the living room as a passageway from the front door, floor space is conserved, thus making the location of the fireplace at the opposite end logical and desirable. The kitchen is larger than is generally found in houses of this size. The house was appraised at $5,200 with an additional $1,800 for the lot. The Federal Housing Administration insured a $5,000 mortgage on the property, and monthly payments of $43.66 will liquidate the indebtedness.

To Give Thanks In Washington

The Constitutional Sesquicentennial Committee of the Grand Lodge F. A. A. M., of the District of Columbia will sponsor a Thanksgiving service at the Washington Cathedral, Mt. St. Alban, at 11 a. m., Thursday, November 25, 1937.

The address of the occasion will be delivered by the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman the Bishop of Washington. Others who will participate in the exercises are Hon. Sol Bloom, director of the U. S. Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission, the Rev. James Shera Montgomer, chaplain of the U. S. house of representatives, and grand master of the grand lodge of the District of Columbia Paul B. Cromelin.

Music will be furnished by the choir of the Cathedral, and the U. S. Marine Band, which will render a concert in the amphitheater, preceding the exercises within the Cathedral. The latter will commence at 10:30 a. m.

The President of the United States, to whom an invitation to attend had been extended, expects to be at Warm Springs on that day. Among the other distinguished persons invited to worship with the Grand Lodge on this occasion are Vice-President Garner, the members of the Presidents Cabinet, the Supreme Court of the United States, the Diplomatic Corps, members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives, and other leading government officials.

The entire program, which will commemorate the 150th anniversary of the formation of the Constitution will be conducted in full cooperation with the U. S. Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission.

In announcing the Thanksgiving program, Grand Master Cromelin said: "Freemasonry is based on belief in God. It acknowledges His providence and seeks to obey His will. It is grateful for His benefits and we should publicly express that gratitude. Under present-day conditions with the need for a spirit it is my belief that our Fraternity should, to the last member, assemble on this coming Thanksgiving Day and while uniting in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold blessings, humbly and devoutly offer to Him our fervent prayers for the amelioration of conditions which seem to challenge our civilization and our ability, as an altruistic Fraternity, to meet our instant problems."

GREAT MINING EXHIBIT—

Our old friend Thomas E. Campbell, former governor of Arizona, was chosen as the best fitted man in the country to head the work of putting on a great mining exhibit, showing to the public every process of mining and treating ores of every kind and, among other things, a mountain in which is a completely equipped and operating mine.

The mining building is 180 feet wide, 380 feet long and 51 feet high, one of the largest of the exposition.

Hearing that Tom was to be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Mining Association of the Southwest in Los Angeles, I attended the meeting and was well repaid by the most interesting address he gave. I am convinced that this mining exhibit will have much to do with reviving the mining enterprise of the west.

TESTED RECIPE

By Frances Lee Barton

It isn't every day that even a competent artist turns out a fine picture and it isn't every day that even a good cook is seized with a culinary inspiration. But when someone had the idea of combining cranberries and raisins against a smooth background of tapioca that was a red letter day in the kitchen department. Just taste this dessert and see for yourself!

Cranberry and Raisin Tapioca

2½ cup seedless raisins; 1 cup water; 1½ cups halved raw cranberries; 4 tablespoons sugar; 1 cup water; 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 4 tablespoons sugar; ½ teaspoon salt.

Cook raisins and 1 cup water over direct heat 5 minutes. Wash cranberries. Add cranberries and 4 tablespoons sugar to raisins; cover and cook 5 minutes longer, or until done. Place 1 cup water in top of double boiler and bring to a boil over direct heat. Combine tapioca, remaining 4 tablespoons sugar, and salt; add gradually to water and bring to a brisk boil, stirring constantly. Place immediately over rapidly boiling water and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool—mixture clears and thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, add cranberry mixture. Chill. Serve in sherbet glasses with plain or whipped cream. Serves 6.
