

Yates Sinking Toward the End

Al reports from Loma Linda, Cal., sanitarium, indicate that O. W. Yates, manager of the Las Vegas branch of Pioneer Title Insurance and Trust Company, is sinking toward death and that all hope of his survival has been abandoned.

The patient, to whom oxygen has been administered for some time, has been in a comatose condition considerable of the time for some days and it is probable that the end will come within a very short time.

RECIPE FOR RECOVERY

Testifying before a Senate committee, Bernard Baruch, the well-known financier, although a close friend and advisor of the president, said that the present depression can be ended by a change of the government's attitude toward business and a wise readjustment of the tax structure. He stated that he agreed with the president's view that the national income could reach $100,000,000,000 a year, as against about $67,000,000,000 at present, and added that a business upsurge is now being prevented by a feeling of insecurity—the fear that reasonable profits will be confiscated by "inordinate taxation" and that assets will be subjected to some "great arbitrary change in the value of money."

A short time before this, the United States Chamber of Commerce issued a report pointing out that all the essentials of recovery—men, materials and demand for goods—are present—yet recovery does not come. It does not come because of that feeling of insecurity of which Mr. Baruch and a thousand other au-which causes capital, industry workers and farmers to retrench, and to hold back the spending that would create real productive jobs, new opportunity in industry, new markets for agriculture, and normal conditions in this country.

Government has reviled and fought business. Government has taxed business to death. Government has held out a constant threat of still more severe "reprisals." The political drive for government ownership of much private business is destructive of private investments. The inevitable result is depression, and all the political promises and hot air will not fill the bread baskets. The more business is taxed and "lawed" against the lower will drop the national income and the harder jobs will be to get. These are facts that cannot be laughed off. The longer they are ignored, the worse the depression will be.

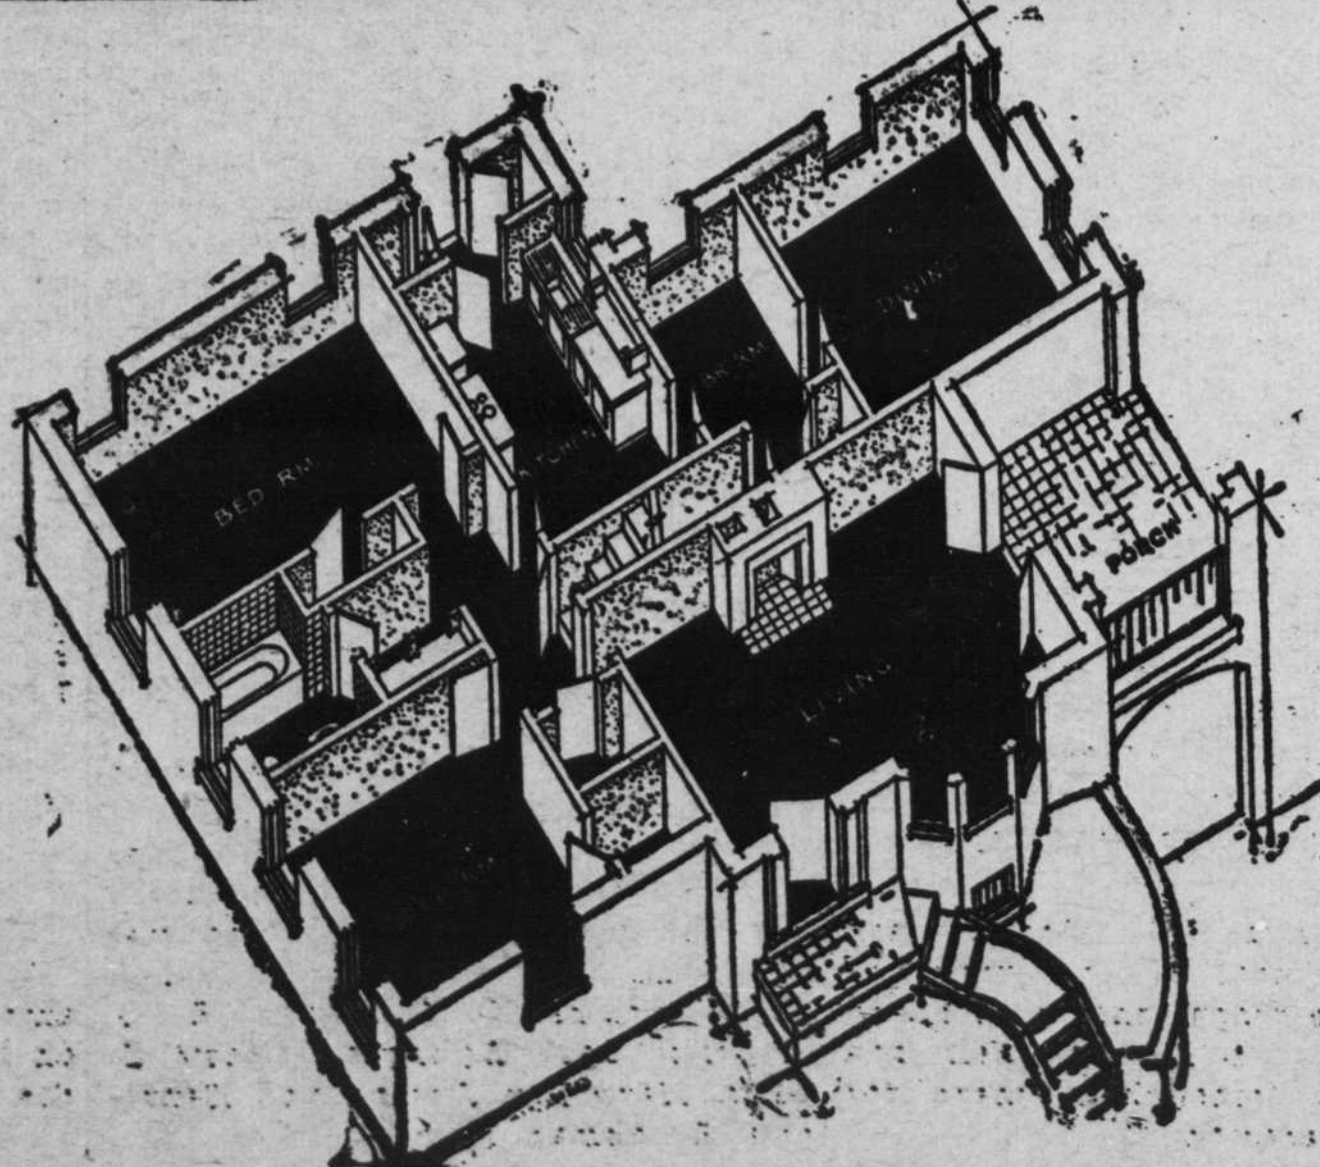

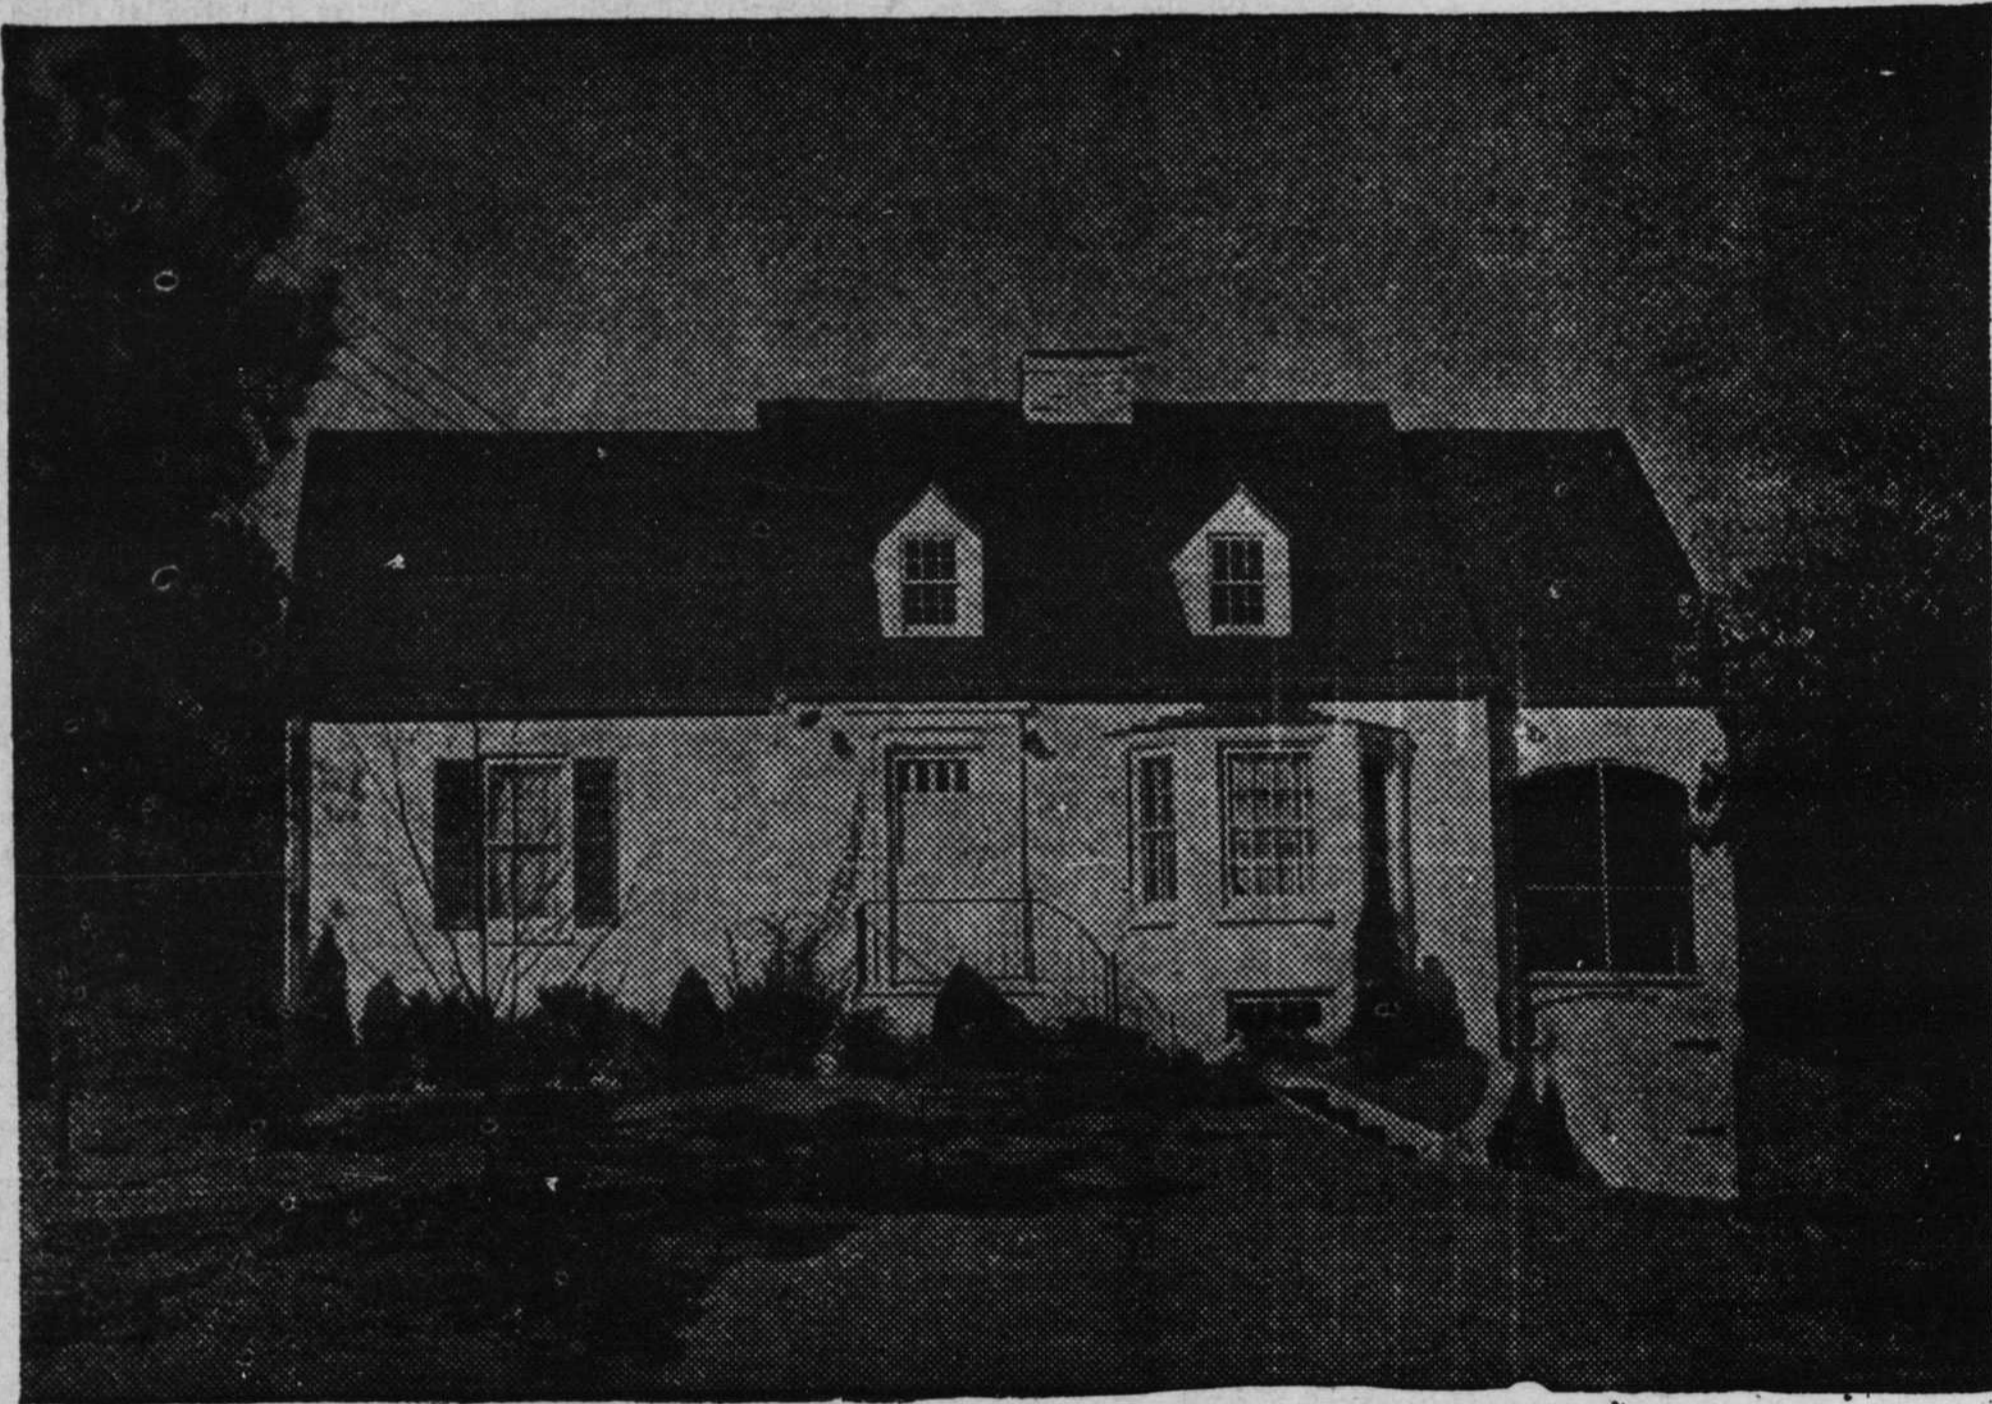

Rotary Party Happy Affair

The Rotary party at which members of four Rotary Clubs to the number of nearly two hundred vied with each other in providing happy features of entertainment, was held at The Meadows last Saturday evening. It was all that any Rotarian can hope for in the way of social gaiety.

The Meadows served an excellent chicken dinner, The Sherwoods provided fine dance music and aided in the community singing under direction of Dr. Roy W. Martin and Leo McNamee, as master of ceremonies, kept the crowd in high good humor.

The affair was the outcome of an attendance contest in which the losers, Cedar City and Las Vegas clubs entertained the winners, St. George and Boulder City. In spite of the uncertain conditions of the highways, there were large delegations present from Cedar City and St. George and nearly 100 percent attendance of Boulder City Rotarians and their ladies.

Modern Simplicity

The Federal Housing Administration issued a commitment to insure a $4,800 mortgage on this house. The property, located in Atlanta, Ga., was valued at $6,000, and monthly payments of $32.69 will amortize the loan in a period of 19 years and care for insurance and interest payments and other fixed charges. The house is of a pleasing design and provides adequate living facilities for a small family.
