Legion Fights Please Crowd

Nine snappy four-round boxing events pleased the largest crowd of the season at War Memorial Auditorium last evening.

Jack McLendon and Al Trulman, the promoters seem to have hit upon a happy combination of numerous four round events presented at low prices so that everyone may feel at liberty to go without feeling extravagant. The applause and enthusiasm were pleasing to fighters audience, promoters and the American Legion sponsors.

Moreover the fighters were well matched and there was not a moment of loafing in the whole evening. The spectators got more real earnest fighting for their money than can be had at any of the professional matches such as we have sometimes witnessed. Jack Dennis did good work as referee.

Frank Quireau Dies Wednesday

Frank Quireau, who lived in Las Vegas since 1905 passed away at the Clark County hospital Wednesday evening. He had been failing in health for several months. His remains are at the Garrison mortuary.
