Roads In Death Valley Paved

(By The Rambler)

DEATH VALLEY JUNCTION, Cal.—Ralph Sigmund who has charge of Tanner Tourist business in Death Valley during the season now drawing to a close, stopped for a few minutes at the Junction last Thursday morning on his way to Los Angeles. Mr. Sigmund has made Furnace Creek Camp his headquarters, during the past winter. From this point, with several automobiles under his supervision, side trips to various points of interest in and about the Valley, were made such, for instance, as Dante's View, Scotty's Castle, Natural Bridge, Golden Canyon, carry tourists and guests to places of particular interest. The highway leading up to Dante's View has been surfaced with the exception of the last two miles toward the terminus by the Government forces during the past year and is now a much easier and more pleasant journey than heretofore. At present, the road leading to Scotty's Castle is being paved.

Music Festival To Meet In Ely

Ely has been chosen as the next meeting place for the Art & Music Festival of the Schools of Nevada. and chaperones were very appreciative of the many courtesies shown them during their stay in Vegas and in Boulder City. In turn our people enjoyed the fine programs given by the various groups and are unanimous in voting them a fine bunch of youngsters.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year the national administration spent a billion dollars more than it took in. But we haven't started yet. Wait till we get that five billions!

Ramber To Be Here for Rodeo

(By The Rambler)

DEATH VALLEY JUNCTION, Cal.—Placards are being displayed in hotel and shop windows in Death Valley Junction announcing the 4th annual Helldorado at Las Vegas, the dates being April 28, 29 30 and May 1. This typically western celebration is sponsored by the Las Vegas Elks and Horsemen's Association and seems to grow bigger and better with each recurring year. While the Ramler has never attended one of the Helldorado exhibitions, he's going to be there this year if possible, because he has heard so much comment on past performances that he has grown curious. For instance, last year such pioneers as Johnnie Mills, Death Valley Scotty, Frank Tilson from the Death Valley District were these to say nothing of many other old-timers unknown to us.

9000 Floodlights Illuminate Fair

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 28—Contract for 9,000 floodlights largest order of its kind ever placed has been received from the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, company officers announced. Total cost of equipment for exterior illumination on Treasure Island will exceed $500,000. The order was signed by W. P. Day, Exposition Director of Works.

A. F. Dickerson, manager of the firm's illuminating laboratories here and in New York, has just returned from San Francisco after several weeks work with the Exposition divisions of electricity, color and architecture, perfecting illumination plans for the World's Fair of the West.

He said the record floodlight order insured carrying out of elaborate plans to make the Exposition "a magic city appearing at night to float on San Francisco Bay."

Scattergood and Party In Crash

The party from Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light officials which met with the Nevada Colorado River Commission at Boulder City Saturday last for discussion of power rates and allied questions met disaster Sunday evening at Central, Utah, when their car, skidding around a sharp curve at high speed left the highway and turned over.

Mrs. Velma Tuttle, secretary to Mr. Scattergood for many years, who was driving the car, was instantly killed. Mr. Scattergood and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gardette, the other passengers escaped with minor cuts, bruises and shock.

The party was on its way to Salt Lake City where Mr. Scattergood was to meet Governor Blood of Utah.

One of the popular songs of the day is "Whistle While You Work," and if you are lucky enough to have a relief job you can whistle "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Red Cross Head Will Broadcast

Norman H. Davis known throughout the world's diplomatic circles for his work in behalf of the United States, will address the nation for the first time as chairman of the American Red Cross when the National Red Cross convention convenes in San Francisco Monday morning, May 2. His remarks to the convention, assembled in the Civic auditorium, will be broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company's blue network, also over the Columbia and Mutual networks, 10:30 to 11 a.m. (Pacific Standard Time).

A world-wide goodwill program to reach 18 million Junior Red Cross members in 53 countries, will be broadcast from the Junior Red Cross Convention, San Francisco (2 to 2:30 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time) Wednesday, May 4. The National Broadcasting Company will release the program over the Blue network throughout the West and over the Red network in the East. General Electric Company's shortwave stations W2XAF and W2XAD will carry the broadcast to all foreign lands.

The United States Office of Education, Department of the Interior, is cooperating with the Red Cross in the broadcast. Parts of the program will be released from New York. Stress was laid on the fact that the 18 million Junior Red Cross members are organized to carry love and good fellowship to all men with the motto, "I Serve."

AT LAST—THE TVA INVESTIGATION

The joint House-Senate investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, will be a real job.

Growing public interest in the tangled affairs of the Authority made this investigation inescapable. Charges and countercharges, plots and counterplots, seemingly unbridgeable differences between the directors, accusations of waste and irregularity—such things as these have characterized the TVA's stormy history. Matters finally reached the point where an investigation was essential not only to protect the vast public interest in the TVA, but in justice to its directors and sponsors. If the TVA has been managed honestly and efficiently, that should be proven beyond question—if the opposite is the case, quick and drastic remedial action should be taken by Congress.

Above all, this should be a non-political, non-partisan investigation. It should be neither a whitewash nor a muckraking expedition. It should favor neither the proponents nor the opponents of the TVA. It should be thorough, sweeping and dispassionate.

Is it true or is it not true that the TVA has pursued ruthless and rapacious tactics in dealing with private business in the Southeast? Is it true or is it not true that millions in tax money have been spent for useless purposes? Is it true or is it not true that TVA management has at times been swayed by purely political considerations? Is it true or not true that personal enmities and jealousies among TVA directors have made efficient, business-like operation impossible? It is such questions as these that the public wants answered—completely, fairly and finally.
