political ambitions.

Paul Ralli was born a British subject on the Island of Cyprus thirty-three years ago. He studied law and economics in the University of London, England.

In preparing for passing the bar examination in this state, Mr. Ralli, spent a year in the district attorney's office in Reno under Melvin E. Jepson, passing the Nevada Bar in the year 1933.

Since coming to Las Vegas he has been engaged in the practice of law, specializing in criminal cases. It is worthy of note that he has appeared in approximately twenty-five jury trials, ranging from first degree murder down through the entire gamut of criminal offenses and has lost only one of those cases, that being one in which he was appointed by the court to defend a man charged with manslaughter.

In his legal activities he served for three years as secretary of the local Bar Association and is now secretary of the local administrative committee of the State Bar.

He gave a year of his time to valuable community service as president of the Las Vegas Junior Chamber of Commerce during the first year of its existence and is now president of the Las Vegas Community Players.

Mr. Ralli has found time in the midst of his many other duties to be active in his membership in Vegas Lodge No. 32, of Masons, Las Vegas Lodge No. 1468 of Elks and Las Vegas Aerie 1213, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Politically, Mr. Ralli announces that he is a new deal Democrat, although he does not consider himself a politician. However he declares emphatically his belief that the District Attorney should not engage in private practice but should devote all his time to the duties of his office.

They became so busy holding onto that little old boat that they forgot all about fishing and were mighty glad to make shore in safety. They were returned to port by a larger boat at 7:00 o'clock in the evening and soon pulled out for the Death Valley desert country.

Unlimited Gets Publicity Head

RENO, April 30—The Board of Directors of Nevada Unlimited, headed by John S. Sinai, president, today announced the appointment of J. O. T. Cartwright, formerly of San Francisco, as managing director of the organization formed last year to publicize and advertise the entire state of Nevada.

Cartwright is widely known in California and other Pacific Coast states and is considered one of the outstanding publicity and promotion men of the west.

He is not only widely known as a publicist but also as a newspaperman of many years experience on papers in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Nevada Unlimited's new managing director of Transcontinental & Western Air Inc., with headquarters in San Francisco and he organized the Santa Fe Railway's campaign to obtain intra-state stage permits from the California State Railroad commission.

He also gained recognition for his work on the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta staged in San Francisco in 1937 to celebrate the opening of the great bridge across the gateway to San Francisco Bay.

"Nevada has an 'unlimited' opportunity to become one of the best known states in the country insofar as its natural advantages, absence of taxes and all year around playground facilities go," he said.

"When I say Nevada has 'unlimited' opportunity, I mean just that. In that connection I must say that the men who thought of the name 'Nevada Unlimited' for this state-wide organization certainly had their wits about them. The name is perfect. It is most expressive and can readily be utilized to great advantage.

"Nevada is a 'white spot' of the nation in regard to absence of taxes which place such a tremendous drain upon investments in every other state in the union.

"This fact coupled with Nevada's unusually fine climate, its natural playground facilities, its numerous resorts and resort titles, all so easily accessible, make it the grandest place in the country to live, work and play.

"Nevada Unlimited, has as its goal, the advertising, publicizing and promoting of these things on a state-wide basis so that thousands of visitors and their millions of vacation dollars can be brought here to the mutual advantage of every citizen in every city, hamlet and ranch throughout the state.

"Its purpose, to create favorable public opinion concerning the state, arouse a desire to visit Nevada and convince those who come here that it is "One Grand State" in which to live and invest needs no further explanation."

Valley Boys Met Storm On Lake

DEATH VALLEY JUNCTION, May 5—R. R. Nice and Paddy Miles of Death Valley Junction encountered a thrilling experience on Lake Mead a week ago last Saturday. They journeyed to the landing Friday afternoon and chartered a gasoline speed boat and pilot; then skimmed along up to the mouth of the virgin river, and thence up the stream a distance of 25 or 30 miles, a total distance from the port of about 50 or 60 miles. They put up for the night with Red Adams and were roused out at 3:30 Saturday morning—under the vigorous protest of at least one member of the party—for the breakfast of ham and then the piscatorial pilgrimage. About the time they got good and ready for fishing the waves began to roll
