

New Justice to Marry In Style

Boulder City now has a justice of the peace who is prepared to perform the marriage ceremony in style and under the most novel and romantic surroundings ever known.

Judge A. J. Nelson is the new official appointed this week to fill the position of Justice of the Peace in place of Justice A. J. Schur, who has removed from his former ball-wack, leaving the place open.

Judge Nelson, well known citizen of Boulder City, has been a resident of Nevada for the past 15 year, seven of which he has been in Boulder City. Prior to coming here he resided in Ely and Ruth, Nevada.

Judge Nelson is a property owner and, more important, has a wife and six fine children. He is in the employ of Mr. R. R. Ferguson.

Being congratulated upon his preferment, the new Justice said: "I am prepared to carry on the business of the office of Justice of the Peace without fear or favor and with fairness and justice to the most humble litigant who may appear before my court.

"I am also prepared to officiate at marriages under the most romantic and unusual surroundings that fond hearts can picture. Lake Mead, formed by Boulder Dam is recognized as one of the most beautiful bodies of water in inland America and it may interest those planning to splice that I am prepared to marry them on, over, under or in Lake Mead.

"On the lake in a speed boat in the shadow of the gigantic structure or under the colorful towering cliffs of the lake shore.

"Over the lake in a great airship with the beauties of the scene stretching to the horizon in illimitable grandeur.

"Under the lake far down in the glistening tiled corridors of Boulder Dam.

"In the Lake when the summer heat makes the cool of the crystal waters grateful and pleasant to the multitude of bathers at the beach."

So we find in the new "Justice of Boulder City" a man who would temper the stern and rigid rules of justice with all the poetry and romance of one of the most delightful and interesting resorts in America.

Lowry Will Go To Shasta Dam

WASHINGTON, April 30—With bids on call for the construction of Shasta Dam, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes today announced a modification of the administrative setup of the Bureau of Reclamation's Central Valley project in California in preparation for commencement of large-scale construction.

Mr. Ralph Lowry, who has served as Director and Construction Engineer since 1935 of the Boulder Canyon Project, is being transferred to the Central Valley Project to become Construction Engineer of Shasta Dam, with offices in Redding, California.

Mr. Walker R. Young will continue in charge of the entire Central Valley Project, with offices at Judge Nelson resides at 607, Avenue D, Boulder City. During business hours he may be found at Recreation Hall, across from the Green Hut Cafe.

RETURN FROM AKRON

Mrs. David Farnsworth, who has been visiting in Akron, Ohio, returned today accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Casey, her grandson David Casey and her infant granddaughter.

Mrs. Casey will be remembered as Betty Farnsworth who lived most of her younger years in Las Vegas. Mr. Casey was an employe of the Babcock-Wilcox Company during the hectic days of Boulder Dam Construction.

Mrs. Casey and children will remain here visiting for several days.

Sacramento, remaining in administrative charge of all the work in the Kennett Division where Shasta Dam is located.

On strictly engineering matters, however, Mr. Lowry will report direct to Chief Engineer Raymond F. Walter, at the Bureau's Denver office.
