

CLEANING UP

On the sun deck of the Grace Line's "Santa Lucia," northbound from the Canal, a seaman washes down the white-painted superstructure.

New Skyline Trail Is Thriller

Photos, Canadian National Railways

HORSES have no sense of height. And that is just as well, for the new skyline trail which has been laid out in Jasper National Park, in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, lies for three miles on the top-most edge of a ridge more than 8500 feet high. It is a mile down to the valley floor from the top of the ridge and the shale slopes shoot downward from both sides of the trail at an angle of 45 degrees. On a clear day it is possible to see more than 100 miles from this spectacular trail, even down into the Columbia Icefield region, the largest glacial area south of the Arctic in North America. The illustration shows two views of the new trail.

Rambler Writes News Of Valley

DEATH VALLEY DOIN'S
By D. V. Rambler

DEATH VALLEY JUNCTION, Cal.
May 9th, 1938

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wilson stepped off at the Junction, last Thursday, while motoring north, for a few hours' visit with friends of former days, now residents at D. V. Jct., Mr. and Mrs. Owen Montgomery. . . Messrs Wilson and Montgomery were associated, years ago, as employes of one of the largest Arizona copper companies at Hayden. Mr. Wilson is now connected with The Black Mammoth Mining Co., at Silver Peak, Nevada, as geologist. This is the Cord-Vollmer syndicate which recently took over the Keen-Wonder property, located in the Funeral Range, east of Death Valley.

Mrs. Ella Pitcher, accompanied her friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Christensen, of Glendale and Mrs. Harriett C. Freeman, of Oakland, on a tour of Death Valley last Thursday. All stopped at hotel Amargosa for lunch, and then toured the Valley country . . . That is, theoretically, and from hear-say: this, because her late husband, Ed. Pitcher, was for many years, one of the 20-mule, borax team drivers, and she had heard her husband and his friends talk so much about Death Valley that she really felt that she knew all about it — but really this was Mrs. Pitcher's first, honest-to-goodness trip to the Valley, in person. The party returned to Barstow, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie O'Connell and children, Bill and Patsy, made the trip to Baker last Sunday, and took in the speed-boat races, on Silver Lake. They were planning to meet their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clooney and friends, from Barstow.

Jimmie Gill, wife and family of three young daughters, left the Junction early Saturday morning, for Baker, anxious to get the lay of the land, and a good, grandstand seat, from which to view the speed-boat races, on Saturday.

There is a base-ball game scheduled for next Sunday, May 15th, between the Beatty and Death Valley teams, on the latter's grounds, at The Junction.

Death Valley's Post, No. 542, American Legion, gave another of their popular dances, in Corkhill

Baker Seeking State Office

The post of surveyor-general of the State of Nevada will be sought at the next election by C. D. Baker of Las Vegas. Mr. Baker has just resigned from the position of city engineer and filed for the state position on the democratic ticket.

Hall, last Saturday nite. There was a representative number of desert people present, with several from distant points. The Gypsy Rovers of Death Valley furnished the music.

Mrs. H. P. Gower had as her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Montgomery, last Wednesday afternoon, on a motor trip to Las Vegas to see Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Woulf, of Leland station, twenty-seven miles north of the Junction, where Mr. Woulf is located as section foreman for the T. and T., are the parents of a new baby boy, born to Mrs. Woulf at Emergency hospital last Saturday.

Tommy Trengrove, clerk during the past season at hotel Amargosa, will leave around May 15th, on a short vacation trip among friends and relative in Los Angeles.

Farland (Doc) Wells, who has operated the speed wagon, the official star route, mail vehicle, from the Junction through the Valley as far north as Stove Pipe Wells, relinquished that job on May 1. He is now to be found at the desk in the lobby of Hotel Amargosa, relieving Tommie Trengrove.

Mr. W. W. Cahill returned to D.V. Junction last Saturday morning from several days spent with Mrs. Cahill, in their Hollywood home, and attending to business matters.

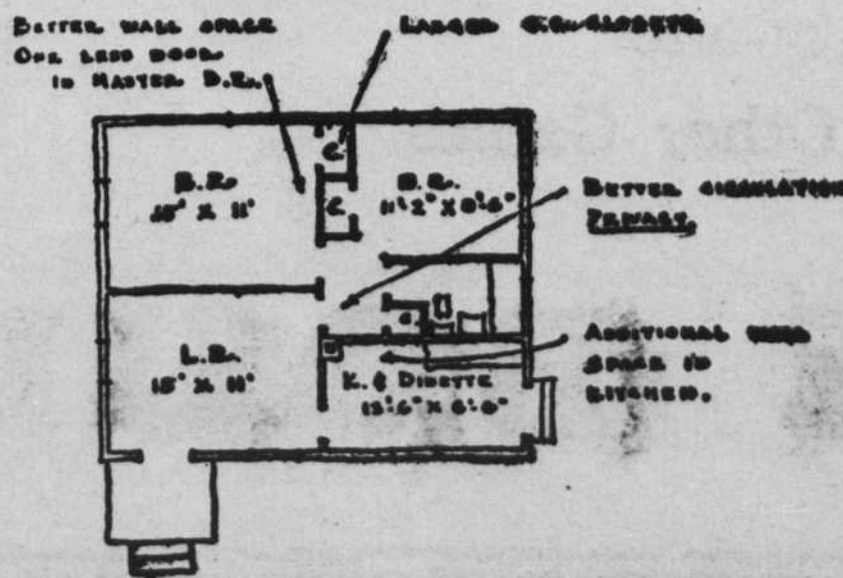

Mrs. David Fuller, Sr., daughters, Misses Rosalind and Jane, accompanied by their guest, Miss Ruth George, motored to Las Vegas last Thursday, and witnessed the wonderful pageant — Snow White.

MRS. RONNOW ILL

Mrs. C. C. Ronnow has been taken to the Las Vegas hospital. She has been ill for several years and it is hoped that by close observation the physicians may be able to relieve her suffering and restore her to her family and friends in better health.

Privacy In a Small Home

GOOD ARRANGEMENT

BAD ARRANGEMENT

