Governor Gets Key To New York Fair Plans Meeting At Breakfast

Governor Richard Kirman, Mr. W. W. Hopper, President of First National Bank of Nevada and State Chairman of the advisory committee for the fair, and Mr. J. C. Hancock, the New York Good Will Courier, in the office of Governor Kirman at Carson City, Friday, May 13, on the occasion of delivering the key to the Fair to the Governor.

Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Tuesday noon, on motion of Bob Kaltborn, voted to try meeting for breakfast instead of luncheon during the months of June and July.

The breakfast meeting, designed to encourage members to attend during the hot months, will be held at the Union Pacific dining room beginning at 7:30 every Tuesday morning, unless it is found desirable to change back to the luncheon hour.

Among the guests at last Tuesday's meeting was Mr. J. C. Fisher, of St. Louis, who was a member of the Chamber for many years, beginning in the year 1911. Other visitors were Mr. Spencer, Mr. Rear and Mr. Eberhart.

K. O. Knudson reported that prospects for securing the 1939 district convention of the Ahepa organization are very encouraging.

The Rev. James H. Terry of the Episcopal Church, reported that the Episcopal Synod went off finely and that it was productive of much favorable publicity of a kind that will be most valuable. He expressed thanks for the whole hearted cooperation of the community and the people generally.

President GGriffith, commenting on the success of the Synod, said, "I met some of the finest men I ever saw. It was a pleasure to meet so many great characters."

The secretary was directed to send letters of appreciation to Bishop Thomas Jenkins and his assistant, Miss Ruth Jenkins, and to The Rev. H. M. Terry, on the fine work they did in making the Synod a success.

Rev. C. H. Sloan, member of the fish and game committee, declared that more publicity should be given to the "fishing industry." The eight pound bass recently caught in Lake Mead is worthy of being photographed and publicised and the fine strings being brought in frequently, especially the catches of children, are worthy of being publicised, Rev. Sloan declared.

Kaltenborn Will Have Fine Plant

Bob Kaltborn of General Auto Parts company now located at 117 North Main street, has begun construction of a fine new building, or series of buildings, on the southwest corner of First and Ogden streets.

The corner room will be a show room, 26 by 66 feet in size, immediately behind which will be the storage room, 20 by 40. In the rear of this, reaching to the alley will be the service station with a driveway running from the First street front and out past the hoist to Ogden street near the alley.

On the alley will be located the repair shop, 24 feet by 40 adjoining which will be the wash rack. Along the south side of the lot will be open storage sheds, leaving a parking space for a number of cars in the center of the area.

The site fronts 75 feet on First street by 140 feet on Ogden street with a 20-foot alley in the rear. Construction will be of concrete blocks furnished by Homer Groves from the North Las Vegas plant.

Cowan Takes Short Way Out

R. B. Cowan, a mining man who has been in ill health for several years, took the short way out Wednesday. He sat down in front of his cabin at 317½ South Fifth, placed a rifle against his chest and fired. Death came instantly.

Spanish Vets Auxiliary Meet
