

Election Brings Some Surprises

In the Las Vegas district, Earl Davison, democrat, will be opposed by Dan Jondahl, Republican.

For Sheriff, Gene Ward, Republican, will be opposed by Alf Hardy, the Democratic nominee.

For District Attorney, the general election ballot will present the names of the two leading democratic candidates as opponents, Roland Wiley and Roger Foley.

J. T. McWilliams, Republican and R. C. Pearson, Democrat, will be opposing candidates for county surveyor.

Frank Beam, Republican, and Margaret Gallagher, Democrat, will oppose each other for Public Administrator.

LAS VEGAS WEATHER

Following are the maximum and minimum temperatures as registered by the thermometers of the United States cooperative weather station at Las Vegas for the dates shown:

	Max.	Min.
September 2	104	65
September 3	107	68
September 4	106	66
September 5	100	58
September 6	102	60
September 7	97	59
September 8	99	62

C. P. SQUIRES, Cooperative Observer.

An agricultural expert says that the supply of donkeys in the United States is increasing steadily. But as a good Republican we want to know "how about elephants?"

Over in England they are all excited about the discovery of the skeleton of a man who lived 250,000 years ago. Why bother about him? He probably believed in low taxes and a balanced budget.

The President accuses Senator Tydings of running on Republican money. Well, the New Deal candidates are running on the taxpayers' money — four and a half billions of it.

According to political experts most people register a negative rather than a positive vote when they go to the polls. That is because it is so much more fun to be against somebody.

Fallon To Stage Fall Horse Show

The first State Horse Show in the history of Nevada was announced this week as part of the 1938 Nevada State fair, which will open in Fallon on September 22 and continue for four days.

Since horses are an important part of the agricultural and recreational life of the state, Thornton expects this phase of the show to be one of its most popular features and to draw exhibits from a wide area.

With prizes totaling $500, the horse show will take the boards for adults on Sunday, September 25, while the special show for children will be held on the preceding Thursday.

Premier event in the horse show is to be the stock horse contest, in which horses used in the handling of stock will be exhibited and put through their paces. In this class alone the prizes amount to about $150.

"When practicable," Thornton said, "horses will be shown working cattle. When impracticable, they will be worked on a sack filled with sand. The riders will go through roping in complete order as when roping stock."

In the cross country horse division will be exhibited animals used by men and women for pleasure riding, while another class will be open to jumping mounts, and there is a special division for walk-trot and 5 gaited saddle horses.

The Thursday event for youngsters is open to boys and girls under 17 years, or, if they are 4-H club members or vocational education students, over that age.

Both the pony class and the stock horse class are open only to Four-Achers or vocational agricultural students. In addition there will be a riding contest open to all youngsters, two musical chair competitions, and a shoe scramble.

Youngsters who are successful in the stock horse contest may compete with the adults on Sunday if they wish.

RECOGNITION OF TEACHERS

There is no demand more fundamental to the progress of education in pace with the times in which we are living than this adequate recognition, in competitive society, of the financial value of the profession of education, and of the simple, democratic, human right of the educator to personal freedom in his personal life. — Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California, in The Rotarian Magazine.

CONQUERING BOREDOM

Happiness is not a picture which can be painted with a few bold, sweeping strokes. It is, rather, a delicately wrought mosaic whose whose intricate pattern is composed of many small pleasures and interests. The people who get real joy out of living are those who continually manufacture little harmonious pieces of experience. Every boredom and dislike is the raw material of pleasure. The only manufacturing equipment you need is the ever-ready desire which is yours for the thinking.—William Moulton Marston in The Rotarian Magazine.

City Enacts New Milk Ordinance

The Board of Las Vegas City Commissioners last Wednesday adopted a new Ordinance, No. 242, to regulate all matters necessary for protection of the public health connected with the production, handling and distribution of milk within the city.

The ordinance among other things provides for the creation of a Milk Ordinance Committee one member of which shall be a producer, one a distributor and the third to be a member of the board of city commissioners. It will be the duty of such committee to recommend to the city board a person to be appointed Dairy and Milk Inspector who shall be a qualified, graduate veterinarian with a state and city license, for carrying out the requirements of the ordinance.

Ordinance No. 242 will be found published for the first time on another page of this issue of The Age.

Church Fosters Recovery Drive

Because of the unusual interest and discussion of the statewide voting in the Democratic primaries for governor, we present herewith a tabulation of the results by counties as compiled by the Nevada State Journal.

A glance at the figures will show that Ted Carville carried thirteen of the seventeen counties of the state and Harmon carried four; Clark county by a majority of 192; Ormsby by 23; Humboldt by 72 and Pershing by 85.

Bishop Jenkins Makes Transfers

Bishop Thomas Jenkins has announced the following transfers of workers in the Episcopal Diocese of Nevada:

Upon the resignation of Deaconess Lydia A. Ramsay who for two years has been in charge of the Work among the Isolated in Nevada, Deaconess Edith Smith will take over the work. At present approximately 300 children are receiving regular religious instruction by mail in the District of Nevada through this Correspondence Church School work, inaugurated nine years ago by Miss Charlotte L. Brown who carried it on for seven years until her retirement.

To succeed the Rev. J. F. Moore at Trinity Church, Fallon, the Rev. Newell A. Lasher will return to Nevada after a year as assistant at St. Luke's Church, Minneapolis. The Rev. Joseph Orlando of Hartford, Conn. arrived in Nevada August first to become Vicar of St. Mark's Church, Tonopah, left vacant by the resignation of the Rev. H. R. Baker.

The Rev. A. L. Schrock, formerly of Reno has been appointed Vicar of the Las Vegas field in southern Nevada, which includes Boulder City, Searchlight and Goodsprings. Fr. Schrock succeeds the Rev. J. H. Terry who has accepted work elsewhere. Deaconess Margaret, U.T.O. worker at St. Alban's Yerington, who has been on sick leave for three months has returned and Deaconess Helen Hill who supplied for her at Yerington has been appointed to the Lovelock field.

NEW WONDER METAL

A new wonder metal which is rapidly proving a boon for many industries bids fair to revolutionize engineering practice wherever great strength with extreme lightness is required.

This new metal which makes even aluminum seem heavy and yet which can be alloyed to have the strength and tenacity of steel is making many designer's dream come true. This new metal is only two-thirds the weight of aluminum and approximately one-fifth the weight of steel. It is known as Magalloy. Its basic ingredient is magnesium which is one of the metals most commonly found on the earth's surface.
