SOUTHERN NEVADA'S LEADING NEWSPAPER

VOL. XXXIV.

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1935

NUMBER 39

Sate To Rush Searchlight Road

The state right of way department has been busy in the Searchlight district the past week securing rights of way for the completion of the Searchlight highway.

At the present time contracts have been let and work is nearing completion on all but seventeen miles of the highway between the Boulder road and Searchlight. New contracts are expected to be let on the balance of the road within the next month.

This will give Searchlight a paved road into Las Vegas. It was stated that possibly next year will see the completion of the highway from Searchlight south to the California state line.

Noted Speaker At C. of C. Meet

Lawrence M. Judd, former governor general of Hawaii, spoke before the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting in the marine room of the Apache hotel on Tuesday.

City Warns On Bill Distribution

The city of Las Vegas has issued a warning on the distribution of posters, dodgers and handbills within the city limits. The law requires that before the distribution of the above, a permit must be secured from the police department. It is the desire of the city to keep the streets as clean as possible and it is believed that by regulation much of the paper on the city streets may be eliminated.

Drastic Raise In License Fees

The city commission, in order to raise funds to carry on city activities, has passed an emergency ordinance that drastically increases licenses for business houses.

The most drastic license increases were made in the public utilities.

Protests against the increase were made to the city board by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce. It was stated by Mayor Marble that the protests will be heard within the next few days.

City Welcomes Universities Of Arizona And Nevada Today For Game On Butcher Field

By CHARLES DOHERTY
(Former Sports Editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush)

"At full strength" said a pessimistic Douglas Dean Dashiell, "we would beat the Arizona State Teachers, and we may even do it in the condition we are in, but we will know definitely tomorrow afternoon when the last whistle blows."

And this Douglas Dean and his pessimism is not a new thing to the sport loving Las Vegans, in the throes of promoting their first intercollegiate football game, as it was in this southern metropolis where the tall drawing Texan got his first taste of football fame as the "champ maker" with four consecutive Nevada high school football crowns.

Beset with early season injuries which have wrecked the Deans first two collegiate teams, he throws only a portion of his Wolfpack into the breach to stem the tide of whacking Arizona Lumberjacks.

In the strategic quarterback position the "champ maker" will call upon stocky, little Frank Beloso, of Reno, who has been developing rapidly, because injuries have placed three of his quarterbacks on the bench. Walter Powers, the Sparks flyer and speed merchant of the team, is forced to be played but lightly due to injuries to his ankle. Power teamed with Yerington's all-state John Polish at left half formed one of the most dangerous combinations in Nevada football history, with Polish doing the heavy work to the strong side of the line, and Powers using his speed through the weak side. But that combination will see little if any service tomorrow because of the injuries to Powers. Polish too, is suffering from an ankle injury which has slowed him down considerably. Also missing from service in this position is Chuck Whitham who was injured in the fifth play of the College of Idaho game a week ago and will not see service for the rest of the year.

Ready to hack Polish at a moments notice will be Mitch Cobeaga, willowy left half, who has shown promise during the early season game with College of Idaho. Cobeaga passing his bullet shots will form an intricate part of the Dashiell razzle dazzle when it gets going at full blast early in November. The vaunted, "now you see it, now you don't" will be forsaken for this Arizona game with the Pack relying on straight football. As the "Dean" puts it, "I wish the game were played later in the season so that the fans could see us in full offensive strength but for Saturday's football game we will stick to straight football. We are forced to do this because of no spring practice."

Holding down the fullback position will be a new boy to Nevada's varsity circles. Carrying 175 pounds of plunging, fighting football steam Kirkendall will be expected to gain the "Pack's" added two or three yards near the center of the line.

At right half, blocking position will be Len Carpenter, who has been given the honor of acting captain. Carpenter also captained the 1935 Las Vegas High School Wildcats to the state championship from his all-state end position.

Nevada's line will average about the same as the Lumberjack's forward wall, with the exception of 240 and 230 pound substitute tackles which can be thrown into the fray by the Arizona mentor when les which can be thrown into the the going gets tough.

At ends Dashiell will start Galloway, tipping the beam at 180 and Hank Clayton, a converted back, weighing the same. These boys will be relieved by Neil (Pee Wee) Campbell and John Sala.

In experience in the wings have caused Dashiell much consternation as it has proved difficult to replace the all-conference ends Hollis McKinnon and Sam Basta.

Dashiell's tackles will be Harry (Hardrock) Bradley, a two hundred pound fellow who forms the bulwark of the right side of the line and Del Stewart, a big willing boy of about two hundred pounds, who lacks experience.

The guards will be Bob Robinette, a tough all-city lineman from San Francisco and Earl Brooks who played varsity guard last year. While in the center position he

Barton Case Set For Oct. 6

October 6th has been set as the date for continuation of the Barton murder hearing in the justice court. At this time the testimony of the preliminary hearing will be read and the defendant released or bound over to the district court for trial.

Assembly Race Cause Of Action

Pat Cline, one of the defeated candidates for the assembly at the primary election, has started mandamus proceedings in the state supreme court to force Lloyd Payne, county clerk, to place at least seven names for the assembly on the November ballot.

The vote for the assembly was as follows: Hazard, 1776, Bunker, 1777, Sloan, 1544, Moore 1027, Farn-dale, 1490, Cline 1402, Gubler, 1240, Perkins, 1128, Moore 1027, Gallagher 784, Clark 706, Smith 428 and Wilcox 301. The above, all democrats, were opposed by only one republican, Neal Campbell. Cline contends that at least seven democrats should appear on the general election ballot.

The suit will be heard in the supreme court Monday.

will start Demosthenes with Tapia to fill in.

The line this year looks better than it has for several years which Dashiell attributes to the fine work of Duane Keller, lent to the University by the Las Vegas school board for the purpose of assisting Dashiell.

"Duane," the head mentor said, "is doing a good job with the squad. Reno has taken to him very well and he is a favorite with the squad, which counts a lot, and with the campus in general. His work is showing marked results."

Also assisting Doug is Pat Eaton, famous for his field goals and after touchdown conversion with his conversion twin, "Sunny Jim" Twombly.

The kickoff is slated for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Butcher Memorial field. Officials of the game will be A. R. Thompson, Idaho, referee, Clyde King, Navy, Umpire, and Wally Rusk, Nevada, head linesman.

Ticket sales for the game are not as heavy as expected but a banner turnout is anticipated tomorrow. Student body tickets for Arizona State, University of Nevada and Las Vegas high school will be honored.
