This attractive conventional home was financed with the aid of a $3,000 mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration. The loan was for a term of 19 years and 6 months, with payments to principal and interest amounting to $20.10 a month.

The dwelling is simply and efficiently planned. The placement of the entrance is a departure from the usual and permits daylight illumination of the stairway. The living room boasts of a large ornamental fireplace. The house is situated in Columbus, Ohio.

"Boys Town" Is Story Stranger Than Fiction

"Boys Town," starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, brings the most colorful, human and exciting of real-life stories to the screen, proof again that "truth is stranger than fiction." The picture opens at the El Portal theatre on Sunday and runs for four days.

More than a year ago, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer became interested in Boys Town, the only incorporated village of its kind in the world. This city of little men has a population of 275, of which 200 are boys, and is situated on the main highway west of Omaha, Nebraska. It is twenty-one years old, a dream come true, the dream of one of greatest and most kindly humanitarians of our time, Father Edward J. Flanagan.

To Boys Town come boys, a never ending parade of boys, who are made welcome irrespective of race or creed. Each of them has a problem, each of them a drama. Some were abandoned by their parents, others were neglected and many had criminal records. One boy was a bank robber at the age of seven, another an inveterate burglar at fifteen; but of the 4300 boys who have passed through Boys Town none has become involved with the police since graduation, while ninety-five per cent are now normal, respectable and responsible young men and citizens of the communities in which they have settled.

The fifteen-year-old incorrigible thief is now 25, happily married and owns a small farm. Mechanically-minded, he has several inventions to his credit. The first was a burglar alarm. One graduate was the youngest attorney ever admitted to the bar in one state; one became a flyweight boxing champion; one became a pitcher in the big leagues. These boys, and hundreds of others, are a tribute to Father Flanagan's firm conviction, which he expressed simply in these words, "There is no bad boy."

It was from Father Flanagan's files, the records left by his boys, that Director Norman Taurog and Scenarists John Meehan and Dore Schary found the rich material for "Boys Town." The script was ready-made. In the history of Boys Town and its boys, they uncovered every element of stirring entertainment, drama and comedy, despair and hope, tragedy and happiness.

Tracy's memorable performance as Father Tim in "San Francisco" made him the perfect choice to portray Father Flanagan on the screen. Father Flanagan thought so, too, and it was Tracy's selection for the role that influenced him to approve the filming of "Boys Town." This gives Tracy a distinction no other star has enjoyed, that of playing a living man as the leading character of a motion picture. In a featured supporting role is Henry Hull as Dave Morris. Hull is also playing a real live person, the Jewish merchant who financed Father Flanagan's first venture in founding a home for boys and became his greatest friend. In addition, the picture gives important parts to Leslie Fenton and to Gene Reynolds.

It was Father Flanagan's wish that the film should be the true story of Boys Town. To assure fidelity not only to the story but to the background, a motion picture company, numbering 61, was sent to Boys Town. For three weeks, Tracy, Rooney and Hull remained at Boys Town, filming exterior scenes and absorbing the spirit and atmosphere of the city of little men.
