OBSERVATIONS

By CHARLES P. SQUIRES

SPRING IS NEAR

The green of leaving trees will soon be delighting Las Vegas. It is only the first of February, yet the cottonwoods are swelling their buds until they are just ready to burst out into tender green foliage. In fact already the tops of the noble trees which line and shelter the streets of Las Vegas have taken on a green tinge.

The Editor of The Age still remains a champion of the cottonwoods in spite of the rather annoying habit some of them have of filling the air with drifting cotton for a little while every spring. Remembering the heat and dust and flies and the almost blinding glare of the summer sun 35 years ago when there was no shade on this whole townsite of Las Vegas, the manner in which cottonwood posts burst into leaf and grew quickly into cooling shade was one of the miracles of the desert. Las Vegas never could have developed into its present beauty and comfort without cottonwood trees.

RAILROAD PARKS

Now that the new Union Pacific passenger station is near completion and curving drives opened through the railroad park, the question of improvement of the park grounds is in the minds of railroad officials.

Walter R. Bracken, who is now ill following an operation in Good Samaritan Hospital, Los Angeles, has for many years had charge of the grounds and, when home again, will doubtless resume that responsibility.

It is understood that plans so far made contemplate the closing of the Fremont extension and placing the ground covered by the present roadway in lawn. The two concrete walks leading from Main street to the station will remain for the use of pedestrians and the unsightly fences, which serve only as perching places for innumerable hoboos, probably will be removed. It would be a hospitable gesture if some benches were installed along the walks.

When the trees, most of them mere twigs, were planted in the parks 30 or more years ago, they were placed close together so that their shade would the sooner cover the ground. Now, since they have grown and spread their branches, some of the trees should be removed and most of the others given a good pruning.

The night show of Fremont street from the station is a remarkable one and gives a thrill to hundreds of passengers passing through on Union Pacific trains every night. Some of the projecting branches along the Fremont street extension could be cut away to provide a better view of the downtown section of the city from the depot.

The new depot is really beautiful and its surroundings will doubtless be made to correspond with it.

WEATHER BOASTING

One just can't help boasting about the almost perfect spring weather Las Vegas has enjoyed all this past fall and so far this winter. On the whole there is no more delightful climate in which to spend the winter than right here.

We need not get too "cocky", however, because many of us remember real winter weather in Las Vegas. For example, just a year ago, February 3, 1939, old Boreas "snuck" up on us and laid down two inches of his beautiful snow. Then the storm continued on the 4th, adding 4 inches to the snow already on the ground so that we had six inches on the level that evening, although much of the snow melted as it fell. Rather late in the season for a snowfall, but there it was.

Other times, generally in December or January, we have had flurries of snow, several times as much as 12 or 14 inches, which California weather was "very unusual." This year, however, some of the peach and almond trees are already blooming.

City Band Will Give Big Dance

The Las Vegas City Band is planning a big dance for the evening of Saturday, February 17, at Elks hall, according to Murray Golden, business manager. The boys, who have given of their services freely for the benefit of Las Vegas, plan to secure new and appropriate uniforms with money to be raised by this dance and such other activities as may be necessary.

That the affair will be one of the most enjoyable of the season is assured by those in charge of the details.

Art Exhibition Pleases Crowd

The art exhibit sponsored by Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the War Memorial building Saturday and Sunday afternoons attracted a large number of our residents. Some 25 local artists exhibited their work and surprise was expressed by those attending that there was so much talent in the community that had been "hiding its light under a bushel."

The exhibit was so well received that many have suggested making it an annual affair. The fact has been proven that we have not only artists but also many who possess art appreciation. The pictures in oil exhibited by Fred Day, especially the "Smoke Trees at Palm Springs," the Indian head in pastel on velvet by C. W. Smith of Smith & Chandler; "Quaking Aspens" by Elizabeth Metcalf; the oils and water colors of Minnie Price, A. E. Johnson, M. Polley and Y. Haarat were viewed again and again. There were beautiful samples of photography, an art in itself, shown by Glenn Davis, Nora Ullom, Gene Parks, Jr., Royal Dimick, C. Sigerblom and Andy Rafael. The two pieces by Chi Chih Tsoi were small but showed a wealth of detail and were exquisite. The study, "Homework," done by the Kiddie Kraft studio elicited much favorable comment, as did the studies by Jack Rose.

The two paintings exhibited by Buster Wilson deserve especial mention. Buster is a native Las Vegas Indian and has never had any instruction in art. His work shows a natural gift in desert coloring, perspective, etc.

Tea was served Sunday afternoon by the sorority girls and the merits of various exhibits were discussed over the teacups.

The occasion was greatly enjoyed and was very much worth while.

City and County Agree On Policy

City and county peace officers are in hearty accord with the policy of arresting and convicting persons who drive cars while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. There has seemed to be some controversy as to whose duty it is to bring charges and try cases, both the municipal court and the justice court claiming jurisdiction. Just now it appears there is no disagreement upon the obvious necessity of prosecuting drunken or careless drivers, and that there is a happy spirit of emulation between the city and the county courts as to which can do the best service in correcting the danger.

Chief of Police Frank Wait started the discussion by instructing his officers to be rigorous in enforcing the city ordinance. There appearing to be some doubt as to the jurisdiction of the municipal court in drunk driving cases, the sheriff, the district attorney and the justice of the peace joined in the movement vigorously.

The present situation is quite in contrast with the "buck-passing" tactics pursued some years ago under other administrations, when city and county peace officers each sought to place the responsibility on the other. It is obvious to the average citizen that neither city nor county officers should be absolved of responsibility of doing their best to enforce the law and the present cooperation between the two should result in better conditions on our streets.

Woman Injured By Drunk Driver

Mrs. Tom Connolly was painfully injured early Thursday evening when her car was struck side-on by a car said to have been driven by C. H. Smoot while under the influence of liquor.

Mrs. Connolly was driving south on Fifth at a slow rate of speed, when the Smoot car came west on Bridger and, without heeding the stop sign, it is alleged, hit the Connolly car at the front door with such force as to force it over the curb to the fence about the grammar school grounds.

Mrs. Connolly was unconscious when removed from the wreck and taken to her home where Dr. C. W. Woodbury attended her. She is suffering from severe scalp wounds, body bruises and shock. She is reported to be resting easily at her home this morning though still in considerable pain.

Smoot was accompanied in his coupe by Mrs. Smoot, their four-year-old daughter and Smoot's sister, Mrs. Edith Bischoff. Smoot was taken into custody and charged with drunk driving.

State Engineer Makes Report on Muddy River Water

State Engineer Alfred Merritt Smith, through his deputy, Hugh Shamberger, has made an interesting report on the waters of Muddy river which irrigate the fertile Moapa valley.

The study on which the report is based was brought about by the complaint of Muddy Valley Irrigation Company of alleged waste of water by the Indians on the Moapa Indian reservation and also to the manner of water use as practiced by the Indians. It is the desire of the water users under Muddy River Irrigation Company to establish proper relationship with the Indians on the reservation and also the establishment of equitable water rights between the U. S. Indian Service and all other users on the Muddy river stream system.

The report states the complaint as follows:

"The present complaints on the part of the Muddy Valley Irrigation Company are not based so much on the quantity of water the Indians use, but on the manner under which they use it. It appears from information furnished us that during the various harvest periods in the Lower Valley many of the Indians are employed there to help harvest the crops. When they return to the reservation they immediately begin irrigating their lands and divert from the Muddy river the water their diversions will afford. This is allegedly kept up until the next harvest season in the Lower Valley. The result is that there is a great fluctuation in the flow to the Lower Valley and due to the method of use in the Lower Valley works a hardship on the particular users during the low water period. In the Lower Valley water rotation is used whereby an appropriator is allowed for a number of hours a month much larger head of water than he would be entitled to under his decreed continuous flow. Naturally, then when the Indians are diverting a large amount of water upstream there is not enough water left to satisfy whoever has the rotation period below."

The principal recommendation of the report is for construction of a dam on the Muddy river at the White Narrows site, providing foundation investigations prove the engineering feasibility of such a dam. The site is within the Moapa Indian reservation about 300 feet from the boundary line. Most of the storage reservoir would lie on unimproved lands owned, it is understood, by the Beach estate. The storage capacity provided by a 35-foot dam would be 5,800 acre feet.

Generous Share To Clark County

Clark county fared well in the tentative construction program adopted by State Highway Engineer Robert A. Allen for 1940-41.

A total of $721,953.00 is included in the allotment, including $6,000 for footpaths at Mesquite on the 1939 program; $112,000 for grading, graveling and surfacing the highway from California- Nevada state line to 3 miles south of Searchlight; (1941); $600,000 for grading, graveling and installing structures from the junction with US 95 south of Railroad Pass to Nelson; (1941); $150,000 to realign, widen and low cost bituminous surface from one mile west of Glendale to west slope of Mormon Mesa; $46,000 for grade separation structure over the St. Thomas branch of U.P.R.R. near Glendale; $250,000 to realign, widen and place low cost bituminous surface, Cal.-Nevada state line to Jean; and $1,300 for grade crossing signals at Boulder branch UPRR eight miles south of Las Vegas.

For general maintenance of the 304.53 miles of improved highway within the county (1940) $78,905.00; specific maintenance, $9,793.00 and reserve for flood damage, $7,955.00.

Allotments to counties are as follows:

Churchill	$241,299.00

Shippey Is Sound On Finnish Loan

Lee Shippey, who writes the "The Lee Side o' L. A." column in Los Angeles Times, has the faculty of sound reasoning to a marked degree. The other day he wrote as follows:

"All this squabble about the Finnish loan makes me sick. Great balls of fire! Are we, the strongest people on earth, determined to go into history as the most cowardly pussycats of all time? If across the street from you a small boy who had done no wrong was being murdered by a huge bully you wouldn't talk about strict neutrality, for fear that if you showed sympathy you might get a black eye yourself. If David was going forth to battle Goliath, perhaps for the salvation of the world, you wouldn't say: 'Here's credit for a nice coffin for you, but we can't give you credit for a sling-shot.' All the money subscribed for Finnish relief may be confiscated by the invading Russians if we don't give the Finns something to protect it with. If we can sell military materials to Japan month after month and year after year we don't need to be so doggoned frisky-catish about selling Finland what it really needs. A Nero who fiddled while Rome burned seems to be a hero compared to a senator who orates about neutrality when gangsters are brutally murdering his friends. If we let democracy get wiped off the map while we talk it soon may be our turn to learn that twaddle doesn't stop invading armies. Even if not, whenever safety and self-interest become more valuable to a people than justice and chivalry are, decay has begun."

The report states the complaint as follows:

"The present complaints on the part of the Muddy Valley Irrigation Company are not based so much on the quantity of water the Indians use, but on the manner under which they use it. It appears from information furnished us that during the various harvest periods in the Lower Valley many of the Indians are employed there to help harvest the crops. When they return to the reservation they immediately begin irrigating their lands and divert from the Muddy river the water their diversions will afford. This is allegedly kept up until the next harvest season in the Lower Valley. The result is that there is a great fluctuation in the flow to the Lower Valley and due to the method of use in the Lower Valley works a hardship on the particular users during the low water period. In the Lower Valley water rotation is used whereby an appropriator is allowed for a number of hours a month much larger head of water than he would be entitled to under his decreed continuous flow. Naturally, then when the Indians are diverting a large amount of water upstream there is not enough water left to satisfy whoever has the rotation period below."

Rotarians Hear Talk About Oil

Jake Garehime, introduced by Program Chairman K. O. Knudson as trumpet soloist of Las Vegas City Band, entertained Las Vegas Rotary club Thursday noon with some excellent trumpet music, playing the difficult selection, "Stars in the Velvety Sky," with fine execution. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Witt Olive.

Next week each Rotarian will be host to one Boy Scout at Rotary luncheon, it was announced by President Archie Grant.

"Rotary Observance Week," February 18-24, will be observed with an appropriate program which will be in charge of Marion Earl, Bill Ferron, Leo McNamee, Al Cahlan and Frosty Mildren.

The speaker of the day was Andy Raphael, deputy of S. C. Dinsmore in the state department of Food and Drugs and Weights and Measures. He took as his subject the development of the oil industry, starting with the first recorded knowledge of petroleum in the seventh century and sketching the amazing growth of the business of securing and refining the vast quantity of petroleum products now used in our everyday activities. The talk was not only interesting, but instructive as well.

Appeal Asked for Remodeling Mint

CARSON CITY, Jan. 31.—Appealing to all Nevadans to lend their aid in contributing financially to a fund to be used in the remodeling of the old United States mint building into a suitable state museum, members of the Nevada Museum and Art Institute today announced that the response for assistance has been "just fair."

The last legislature appropriated $5,000 toward the mint-museum project, and that amount was expended in the purchase of the building from the government. Additional funds are needed to make necessary repairs to the historic building and put it in shape to receive the many relics of Nevada that will find a lasting resting place in the new museum.

Judge Clark J. Guild of Carson, William Donovan of Silver City, and Miles N. Pike of Reno are members of the museum committee directing the details of soliciting the funds throughout the state. Letters have been sent to newspapers, service clubs, and other organizations, seeking public support for what has been termed "a true Nevada project." Several thousand dollars is needed to convert the mint building into a suitable museum, the committee members said.

The committee announced this week the appointment of a state-wide advisory committee to assist in the work. The Las Vegas members of this committee are Ed W. Clark, A. E. Cahlan, Archie Grant, Frank McNamee, Berkeley L. Bunker and C. P. Squires.

Protest Hearing Set for Tuesday

A protest, made by Lee Speirs, doing business as Boulder Taxi; Harry Shade, doing business as Greyhound Taxi; Jim Healy, Fremont Taxi, and Maynard W. Healy, Mission Taxi, against A. L. Riddle of A. L. Riddle Scenic Tours, will be heard.

The protest seems to be a continuation of the effort on the part of Las Vegas taxicab drivers to drive Riddle out of the Las Vegas field. A protest filed by the same parties with the city commissioners last July 17, which sought to prevent the issuance of an additional taxi license to Mr. Riddle, was denied by the commissioners after a hearing by unanimous vote and the license issued. He was assigned a taxi stand at the White Cross corner, in addition to the stand at the Apache which he already occupied.

The protest now set for hearing in this city next Tuesday before the Public Utility Commission, is based upon the assertion that Mr. Riddle has not operated his service at the rates set by the commission. Mr. Riddle declares that he has at all times lived up to the rates approved by the commission and advertised by his folders.

Mr. Riddle bought the permit to operate from Jerry George and the transfer was approved by the public service commission September 12, 1938. Rates for the Riddle service have several times been approved by the commission.

Riddle Scenic Tours, with its connections with outside tourist agencies, has been building a business of great value to the community and the Chamber of Commerce after an investigation, has given him its hearty approval of his enterprise.

Indians Will Assist Campaign

For the purpose of doing their full share in assisting in the raising of money to combat infantile paralysis, the Indians of this section will present an entertainment at the State Building in Reno, starting at 8:00 p.m. January 30, which is expected to draw a full house.

Dewey Sampson, Washoe County Assemblyman, was in Sparks Wednesday and explained the idea of the entertainment, as follows:

"While President's birthday dances are being given for this worthy object, there are lots of people who haven't a dollar to buy a ticket, especially among the children, and these should be given opportunity to help the cause.

"Tickets for this event may be purchased for from a dime to a dollar, and a large number are joining in the march of dimes.

"The tickets may be purchased from authorized Indian salesmen on the street, at the door or by phoning 22206."

A feature of the affair will be "Papoose" Indian rhythm written especially for the President's birthday celebration.

Sampson stated that all of the Indians in this as well as other sections are taking an enthusiastic interest in the event, and that the celebration will be one of the most interesting ever staged by the Indians of this vicinity. He said that reports of advance sale of tickets was most encouraging, and that he expected to see the hall crowded to capacity.—Sparks Tribune.

"BUD" DOHERTY HAS PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Charles "Bud" Doherty, business manager of the Las Vegas Age and vice-president of the Desert Ski Club suffered a very painful accident Sunday, when he struck a large stone as he was skiing down a steep slope at Mt. Charleston. Fortunately no bones were broken but the ligaments were torn in his left knee and he received a badly sprained ankle which will necessitate the use of crutches for a week or so.

Bob Ritter Will Help Raise Fund

Bob Ritter, for several years past one of the most active members of the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, who last year took charge of and successfully carried through the task of raising a publicity fund of $6,200 for the Chamber, announced at Tuesday's meeting that he would soon leave Las Vegas to accept the position of secretary of the Alhambra, Cal., Chamber of Commerce. He will succeed Nye Wilson, former secretary of the Las Vegas Chamber, who went to Alhambra several years ago.

Before bidding farewell to the Las Vegas Chamber, Bob Ritter said:

"Last year I carried on the campaign to raise a fund of $6,200 for the Chamber and raised $6,200. This year the Chamber needs at least $10,000 to carry on its work and I am willing to go out and get the money if the Chamber desires."

So, before he leaves to take his new position, Bob will undertake one more service for Las Vegas and will, we may be sure, raise an ample fund for community publicity for 1940.

It is understood that Nye Wilson resigned his Alhambra position to assume an important executive position with a Los Angeles secretarial college.

President C. D. Baker announced that his successor, Bob Kallenborn, will take over his duties as president officer next Tuesday.

County Hospital Much Improved

On invitation by the county commissioners the editor of The Age visited the county hospital the other day and found it improved to an astonishing degree since the last previous visit.

Particularly noticeable were the addition of modern equipment for sterilizing, a fully equipped x-ray department, a well equipped operating room and a new ward with ten beds. A number of private rooms have also been provided with modern furniture.

The floors throughout have been covered with linoleum and the entire place has the appearance of being clean and sanitary in all respects. Dr. Hale B. Slavin reports that the county has also purchased a very complete line of surgical instruments and appliances.

Electric heating and cooling systems have been installed so that the hospital may be kept comfortable at all times.

County Commissioner Harold J. Stoker has been appointed by the board to have general supervision of the hospital for the county.

Smoot Is Guilty Of Drunk Driving

C. H. Smoot, charged by the district attorney's office with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was brought before Justice of the Peace George Marshall this morning and entered a plea of guilty.

Smoot was sentenced to serve 31 days in the county jail and was prohibited from driving a car for the period of one year. He is the person who drove his car into the side of Mrs. Connolly's car Thursday evening.

Michael Blake, another drunk driving culprit also entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to 31 days in jail and had his driver's license revoked for six months.

Deputy District Attorney Paul Rall declares that the pleas of guilty were secured in accordance with the policy of the district attorney's office of avoiding costly trials, but at the same time cleaning up the prevalent drunk-driving habit in Clark county.

Rain, Feb. 1 and 2, 1.01 inches. Today to 2:00 p.m., .03 inches. Total 1.04 inches.

Vegas Basket Ball Team Trounces Willing Ely Five 39-22 In Fast Game Last Night

Annual Spelling Bee Date Fixed

The date of the annual spelling bee in which representatives of the various civic organizations participate, has been fixed as February 15, 7:30 p.m., at the grammar school auditorium, it was announced at Thursday's meeting of Las Vegas Rotary club.

President Archie Grant appointed Al Adams, Maj. Sweeney and Berkeley Bunker to represent the Rotary club.

Mrs. W. S. Park entertained the Hostess club Tuesday with a luncheon at her home, 7th and Charleston boulevard. After the delicious luncheon the following members enjoyed the afternoon sewing: Mesdames Isobel McChrystal, D. E. Dutton, Henrietta Brockman, Emily Ball, Tully Ball, W. N. Schuyler, O. C. Boggs, C. P. Squires, C. C. Boyer, Al Moser, Dave Farnsworth and the hostess, Mrs. Park.

New U. P. Depot Near Completion

The new Union Pacific passenger depot being erected in Las Vegas has progressed to a point where the beauty of the structure is becoming apparent.

Ryberg Bros., contractors, expect to have the work completed within a short time and turn the structure over to the railroad. Union Pacific officials are planning to have a public dedication of the building at a date to be fixed, which probably will be during the latter part of February.

The exterior of the depot is being painted in three attractive shades of green, and presents a pleasing appearance.

Probably the most notable feature of the interior is its elaborate system for heating and cooling which, it is claimed, is the most complete air conditioning plant in this region and this being the only depot in the country so equipped. The plant itself is located in the room on the third floor of the building and is automatic in all respects. It consists of General Electric equipment of the most modern type. In both heating and cooling it is entirely automatic, being controlled by thermostats. Don Williams, Nevada Electric Company, installed the plant.

Steam power for the air conditioning plant is piped from the U. P. power house under 125 pounds per square inch pressure, which is reduced to 15 pounds for the heating system.

The general waiting room occupies the southern end of the ground floor and is circular in shape. The ticket counter is circular to conform to the shape of the room. Barkalov Brothers news stand will occupy the southern portion of the room on the side next the tracks. Modern rest and toilet rooms are provided with the most modern plumbing and fixtures. A system of individual checking compartments for hand baggage is provided and a baggage storage room to take care of baggage of tourists while they are being taken on the trip to Boulder Dam.

The general baggage room and the American Railway Express Company have separate rooms in the north portion of the depot.

In the basement is a large room, about 30 by 40 feet, which will be used for storage purposes.

On the second floor are the telegraph office, trainmaster's office, and an adjoining room for the trainmaster clerk's office. In the north end of the second floor will be the office of Supt. H. H. Larson, a large office for two road masters, a claim agent's office and the special agent's office.

The chief dispatcher's office occupies the southeastern portion of the second floor.

The floors will be finished throughout in rubber tiling.

The station grounds have been somewhat remodeled, the oil and water service stands for locomotives having been moved and paved platforms provided to extend the length of 16 to 20 car passenger trains. New lighting standards have been provided for the entire length of the train platforms.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. R. Russell and Mrs. Will Beckley entertained Friday afternoon at a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. N. Schuyler, 604 South Sixth street.

Relying principally on the cool headed playing of two Las Vegas high school Wildcat veterans, Kenny Blake and George Foley, the local quintet spurted into the lead and maintained it throughout the game to defeat the willing but ineffective Ely Bobcats 39-22 last night.

The first half play was dominated by Blake who poured nine of the locals twenty points into the basket, and was also featured by brilliant defensive work on the part of Foley and Bunker. The quarter score stood at 12-5 for the locals, while the half ended 20-16 following and offensive spurt by the northern lads.

During the second half Foley stole the show. Sinking shots from seemingly impossible angles, spectacular dribbling, and excellent defensive work, adding to his seven points in the first half to make a game total of fourteen points beating Blake out for high point honors by one lone tally. In the second half Blake was forced out of the game because of a hard blow in the eye.

For the visitors Swendenburg, Turner and Lemch turned in fine games. Turner featured particularly by potential scoring sharpshooters from out on the court. Swendenburg, a sophomore, gave evidence of being a real star in future years, by virtue of an uncanny one handed ability to sink goal from far out in the court with either hand. The impressive thing about the White Pine boys was that they all potentially are excellent shots, and couldn't be left alone a minute.

During the second half the locals pulled away and the third quarter score stood at 27-18, with the final outcome 39-22.

Ballard a lanky forward, though inexperienced, proved to be a ball hawk, and particularly adept to team playing, which some of the local substitutes failed to show.

In the preliminary the kitten squad of the Vegas high school, turned back the Boulder City five 18-9.
