

U. S. Army Men Sail for Newfoundland

These United States army men, specially equipped for cold weather conditions, are having their equipment inspected on board the S. S. Edmund B. Alexander upon sailing from New York for new army bases in Newfoundland. The Alexander is the old S. S. America, which was used as a troop transport in the World War days of 1917.

For Britain

The new 35,000-ton "super-battleship," Duke of York, sliding down the ways of Clydeside yard, London, after being christened by Queen Elizabeth. The vessel will mount ten 14-inch guns and have a speed of over 30 knots.

Life Among the Seminoles

The advent of the CCC was a great event in the lives of the Florida Seminoles after the Indian Division was established. The braves can now work at improving their camps and be paid for it. These pictures, loaned by Dwight Gardin, Seminole agent at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., show how the tribes live.

Right: Despite the Mongolian cast of her features, little Frances Jumper is pure Cow Creek Seminole.

Susie Tiger, above, of the important Seminole Tiger clan, is grinding corn. The mortar she is using may be as old as she is. It was hollowed from cypress.

(In circle) Patriarch Billy Buster squats before his lonely fire. As a young man he killed his brother, and is now an outcast by tribal decree.

Ready to dip into her sofskee pot for a sample is this Miccacuki Seminole matron. This is not madame's kitchen, however, for the whole clan cooks in it. The three pots in the fire mean that three families will partake of the next meal here.

Left: Five top hands among the Seminole cowboys ride out through the cabbage palm hammock to inspect their herds. They have become expert cattlemen.

Representatives of the Great White Father who care for the Seminoles. Left, rear, is Dan Murphy, who heads the Indian department for the CCC, while just behind the pot is John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs.

At a quiet pool in a big cypress swamp Mrs. George Osceola and her two sons are busy washing clothes. They waded to this spot.

Ancient Egypt in Role of Modern War

'War' in Snow Here and War in Sand Over There

The picture at the left looks like the real thing, winter warfare as it is probably being waged in the mountains of Greece, but it was made at Lake Placid, N. Y., and the troops are of the U. S. army engaged in winter maneuvers. To the right a British soldier posted as a lookout somewhere in western Egypt, looks as though he is buried in snow. The white sand of the desert and his white overalls form an effective camouflage.

Words Fly at 'Lend-Lend' Bill Hearing

At the house foreign affairs committee hearing on President Roosevelt's "lend-lease" bill, chairman Sol Bloom and Rep. Hamilton Fish, both of New York, bandy words as Fish calls the bill "a dictator's bill." This soundphoto shows, left to right, Representative Bloom, Representative Fish and Representative George E. Tinkham of Massachusetts.

Visits White House

Joseph P. Kennedy, resigned U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, shown as he talked with members of the press shortly after visiting the White House in "lend-lease" bill hearing.

Warriors Hailed by Greeks

Wild with joy over their country's successes against the Italians, the populace of Athens, Greece, gives a rousing reception to Greek and British soldiers home from the battlefield. The British fighters have British and Greek flags. The Greeks are grateful to the British for the aid they have given them in Albania, where Il Duce is still in reverse.

To Puerto Rico

Pictured here is Guy J. Swope, auditor of Puerto Rico, who has been nominated by President Roosevelt to succeed Admiral William D. Leahy as governor of Puerto Rico. The appointment is subject to confirmation by the senate.

Start Whittling on 45,000-Ton 'Big Stick'

Assisted by Capt. J. J. Broshek (left), Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward is shown setting in motion the machine that drove the first rivet in the keel of the 45,000-ton battleship Missouri at the Brooklyn navy yard. The Missouri, expected to be completed in 1944, will be a sister ship of the Iowa. They will be the largest ships in the U. S. navy.

With British Embassy

Miss Craig McGeachy at her desk in Washington, D. C., the first woman ever attached to the British embassy here. She represents the ministry of economic warfare.

London Took This But Fights On

The very core of London, the "ancient city," presents this woeful aspect as famous old buildings and modern structures gave to the sky from which German raiders rained down thousands of fire bombs. Crumbling walls, flame weakened timbers, and twisted steel attest to the fury of the raid. This photograph was made from the dome of St. Paul's cathedral.

Better Bomb?

Russell Hart, inventor, demonstrates in Los Angeles the effectiveness of his new type bomb, which may excel any device now used against submarines. The new bomb, Hart said, has one-third the weight of depth bombs now used, and equal power. It costs less, too.

Secin' Double in the Navy

The navy will be seeing double from now on. Two sets of identical twins, whose names are quite similar, are shown taking the oath as they enlist in New York city. They are, left to right, Charles B. Pierpont and William Charles Pierpont, 19, of Woodstock, N. Y., and Charles Francis Heil and Francis Charles Heil, 17, of Newburgh, N. Y.

Rearranges Anthem

Due to deadlock between broadcasters and ASCAP our national anthem must be rearranged. Above is Albert Chiffarelli working on the anthem for Broadcast Music, Inc.
