The purchased air network follows a northerly route from Denver to Casper and Sheridan, Wyoming, to Billings and Lewistown, Montana, and ties in with Western's California-to-Canada trunk line at Great Falls, Montana. From Cheyenne, Inland's route branches north through the Black Hills area to Scottsbluff, Nebraska; Rapid City, Spearfish, Pierre, and Huron, South Dakota.

Western, which celebrated the completion of its 18th year of air operation April 17, already boasts a roster of approximately 1,000 employees, with headquarters located at Los Angeles. In addition to adding the Inland network to its 1402-mile route, Western wall inaugurate air service
