The Eye Happy Snooping Year

The red head mentioned last week got the watch and the "watch giver" had himself a bit of trouble explaining the dent in his Christmas bonus to his better half . . . If this means anything, "Racehorse" is ready to go to the post and according to him, he's ready to RUN a mile and a half . . . One cocktail waitress lost her red wig and came up short while another one came up with a brand new red wig on Christmas Eve . . . While out looking for a home a gent "landed", and when he got home he found out he had "landed" a thing in woman's clothes . . . A male school teacher is putting himself into the kind of position that will cause him much, much explaining . . . A marriage is coming up between a non-gamer and a gamer thus freeing two or three gals for the best talker . . . The more I think about it, the more that baby does look like a self-styled cool gent who drives a ---door---. If I filled in those blank spaces he'd explode into a million pieces. Sometimes it takes an incident to put the pieces together and this is pure case fit without force . . . The kat who offered fifty dollars for the name of the chick whose leg appears in the story "Terror Wore High Heel Shoes" might have a surprise coming within the next three weeks . . . On Christmas Eve at the El Morocco there was a gal draped in a skin tight green dress with green shoes and black hair . . . when she got up on the floor to dance she should have been going to see a doctor because she was shakin' all over . . . "Big Man," how many chicks can you afford to pay the rent for before you wind up strung out like a clothes line? . . . A young attractive beauty operator could make you dance all night since she's got the right kind of music but I've got news for you, "don't try playing her jukebox with nickles and dimes" . . . Did you see "sos and so" driving a new Caddy? Yes, I saw "so and so" driving a new Caddy and I care less what she drives as long as she doesn't run up on the sidewalk and try to run me down. (Thank you, well wisher) . . . I know the owners of a certain supper club are going to flip when they find out that a certain newspaper editor received a slot machine for a Christmas present from his publisher boss . . . I would like to know the name of the gal who slashed the seats of her boyfriend's two-door Chevy the other night while it was parked near her girlfriend's apartment in K.P. . . . A turkey i-n V.V. is about to have his little old mouth jammed with a foot if he doesn't ease up talkin' about the neighbors . . . Special Note: If you give birth to a baby that you don't want at least give the child a chance to live. There are people to help in just such cases. Call the Voice and we'll help you. But don't, out of fear, desperation or hate leave a newborn child on any door-step.

BIG DADDY SOUL SAYS

The wife of an extremely popular guy had planned to quietly file for a divorce but it seems her across the street neighbor couldn't keep a secret if her life depended on it. Funny part of it is, "cool pops" has been waiting for an opening to pack his bags and move it all on over to a certain gal's house who's strictly under the voting age of 21 with one crumbsnatcher to her credit.

FLIP, LIP & SLIP

TELL it like it is:
What young lady introduced her "sponsor" to her "home boy" as her brother-in-law when the sponsor ran into the two getting out of a cab in front of the house? Actually "home-boq" really likes to run around with the switch set so why the bold excuse, Baby Doll?
(Flip, Lip & Slip are the sons of Big Daddy Soul and Sister Fat Chops who you'll meet next week.)
