

The Eye

Who caught herself a real swinging cold while twisted up in the trunk of her man's car that was parked on the far southwest corner of a supper club's parking lot?....And guess who is a chick who must be close to a stacked 45, acts like she's in her late twenties, dresses like she's walkin' across some college campus, drinks like a fish, talks like a natural born man and if you see her out, you'd swear she was a natural swinging chick but she's "man colder" than all the ice you'd find in Alaska....And who is the chick who loves to wear red and come on after three drinks of Martel with this opener, "I'm buying everything this mornning that will make a little girl like me happy."I hate to tell this but a certain husband has better start looking at his wife and maybe he'll see her Keno playing ticket...5-9-155-25....Now what would you do, if a chick walked up to you with a paper bag filled with silver dollars and said, "Baby, you can have all of this if you'd act just right?" I happen to know that the guy this happened to fled the scene and I don't blame the kat because he'd never get ride of that big mama soul once she hung her mannoth grabbers on him.... Three more walking trash cans have been dumped on this side....Over here they walk about with no questions asked, but if they strolled ten feet down Fremont Street at night, they'd be picked up as garbage disposal....I thought the Spider Lady was tough but I just recently ran into a chick who's an alligator and a man to her ain't nothing but bait. For you information she rides in a car pool going to work, but when the day's work is done, she's always got some "ready freddy" waitin' to be "gata-rised."....Will the chick who found a red wig please watch yourself because there's a chick lookin' to snatch the thing right off your pretty head....If a certain married middle-aged gent would worry more about his middle spread than his midnight creepin' with a school teacher, he just might save a pending car payment he intends to make for he could certainly use the loot to buy diet pills so he can keep up with his blackboard writin' baby....Who stole the sheets and pillow cases off the line near an area bounded by the trailer court on H. Street?....She's 18 now and looks like the 21 she passes for, but at the speed she's making,

BIG DADDY SOUL SAYS

How is this for a bill of goods. Two chicks are seated in the El Morocco drinking beer. A guy walks up and offers to buy them a drink. The two chicks, one with long hair and the other with short hair suddenly switched their drinks and ordered "stiffer delights." When the guy got up to leave, the thin too much one with the long hair said, "Do you mind buying us another drink before you leave." The guy nodded, and the chick ordered two zombies. One for herself and one for her girlfriend. The guy smiles and paid, but out of range he was heard saying, "-----"

FLIP, LIP & SLIP

We were going to take his picture when he was out with the little lady until we discovered that the little lady he was with resides with a gentleman other than him. He actually couldn't stand too much publicity since he told his wife he bowls on Thursday. Now before you wives of guys who bowl on Thursday get carries away, feel inside the bowling shoes the next time around, then attack, because you might be wrong, and the song reads "A Good Man, Honey, Nowadays, Is Hard To Find."
