Psalm One Hundred Thirty Nine

O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, Thou understandest my thought afar off. Thou compassedst my path and my lying down, And art acquainted with all my ways. For there is not a word in my tongue, But, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether. Thou hast beset me behind and before, And laid thine hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; It is high, I cannot attain unto it. Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; If I make my bed in hell, behold thou art there; If I take the wings of the morning, And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, Even there shall thy hand lead me, And thy right hand shall hold me. If I say, "Surely the darkness shall cover me," Even the night shall be light about me; Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee, But the night shineth as the day: The darkness and the light are both alike to thee. For thou has possessed my reins; Thou hast covered me in my mother's womb, I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: Marvellous are thy works; And that my soul knoweth right well. My substance was not hid from thee, When I was made in secret, And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth. Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being imperfect; And in thy book all my members were written, Which in continuance were fashioned, When as yet there was none of them. How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them!

DO NOT JUDGE TOO HARD

Pray, don't find fault with the man who limps - or stumbles along the road, unless you have worn the shoes he wears or struggled beneath this load. There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt, though hidden away from view, and the burden he bears, placed on your back, might cause you to stumble, too.

Don't sneer at the man who's down today, unless you have felt the blow that caused his fall - or felt the shame that only the fallen know.

You may be strong, but still the blows that were his, if dealt to you, in the selfsame way at the selfsame time might cause you to stagger, too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins - or pelt him with words or stones, unless you are sure, yea doubly sure, that you have no signs of your own.

For you know, perhaps, if the tempters voice should whisper soft to you - as it did to him when he went astray - 'T would cause you to falter, too.

DEEP RIVER

Deep river, my home is over Jordan,
Deep river, Lord; I want to cross over into camp ground.

O children, O, don't you want to go to that gospel feast,
That promised land, that land, where all is peace?

Deep river, my home is over Jordan,
Deep river, Lord; I want to cross over into camp ground.
