HANDBALL CHAMP --John Bass, a teacher at Matt Kelley School, is new Class C handball champ for Las Vegas. He was awarded trophy by 'The Mint'.

BASS WINS VEGAS 'C' HANDBALL TITLE

JOHN BASS, a teacher at the Highland School in Vegas Heights, has been tabbed as a man to watch in local handball circles. Bass, who majored in physical education in college but who never went in for handball until recently, has just won the Class C championship in the city tournament.

"John looks like a real comer," says Kim Lilly, chairman of the Las Vegas Handball Association tournament committee. "He only took up the sport a few months ago, but he is a hard-hitter with plenty of endurance and I wouldn't be surprised to see him develop into one of our better players."

Bass defeated Bill Cline, an engineer at Nevada Test Site, in a hard-fought final. He was rewarded with an appropriate trophy by Sam Boyd, head man at "The Mint", Fremont St. casino.

IT'S A FACT . . . Portugal, about one-eighth the size of Texas, controls African colonies with a combined area three times the size of Texas. The Portuguese have held these colonies, which they call "Overseas Territories", for more than 400 years. They include Portuguese Guinea, Angola, Cabinda, Cape Verde Islands, Mozambique, Sao Tome and Principe. The latter two are islands in the Gulf of Guinea about 125 miles from the Spanish West African enclave of Rio Muni.

Wigmakers to Biggest Hollywood Stars Here

Adolph and Grace Seidel, wigmakers to Hollywood's top stars for more than 30 years, have brought their talents to the new entertainment capital of the world. Now located at 1443 Reno St., one block south of Tropicana Ave. off Maryland Parkway, these celebrated wig-crafters pursued their ancient art at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios for 33 years. The Seidels make all kinds of hair pieces to order, handworking every strand of hair as well as the foundation. They use only the finest, deluxe quality European hair or create from the customer's own locks. Hair lace work is a specialty, all wigs and toupees are custom made. (See Adv. this page).
