

BRUCE MARBETO and his Trio, featuring the jazz singing of Jill Marbeto, has opened a six-week engagement at Ann and Bob Bailey's Sugar Hill bistro on Miller St. near Highland Ave. Last seen in Las Vegas at the Riviera Hotel, the popular recording group has just concluded a record-breaking run at the Valley Inn, San Fernando, Calif. A recently recorded album is scheduled for October release.

The Marbeto Trio may be heard at Sugar Hill Wednesday through Monday from 11 p.m. until 5 in the morning. On Mondays, it also will be featured during the new Blue Monday "bargain basement bash" from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. During this period, all drinks except call brands will be offered at 40 cents.

Master mixologist Red Williams has inaugurated a Celebrity Soiree at Sugar Hill on Tuesday nights. Westside entertainment and sports personalities and stars from the Strip will be presented weekly at Red's parties.

Things are really jumping at Ann and Bob's rendezvous for rounders these cool September nights. Make it a point to get out there soon. You'll like it.
