Urges Attack On Negroes' Slum Areas

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER 3d, addressing the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, called upon New York City's major religious faiths to bury their prejudices and undertake a vast community effort to wipe out Negro slum conditions in New York.

"This problem needs and deserves a community solution," he said at a dinner at the Plaza to inaugurate the Federation's 48th annual campaign for $22.5 million.

The answer he said, should be "an inter-faith solution, a conscientious and concerted effort by our community organizations, irrespective of religion."

Rapping the philosophy of let-each-take-care-of-its-own, Rockefeller declared: "The problem of the Negro community today is a community problem, and what his religion happens to be is entirely secondary."
