

WINDSOR PARK DEVELOPMENT LAUNCHED—One of Southern Nevada's most ambitious housing projects is now officially under way following groundbreaking ceremonies at Windsor Park in North Las Vegas. Participating were (from left) Rev. Prentiss S. Walker, Greater Faith Baptist Church pastor; Ben Kemperman, sales manager, Southwest Gas Corp.; Leo Anderson, FHA service supervisor; A. B. (Duke) Ellington, vice president and general manager, Windsor Park Enterprises; Boyd Bulloch, North Las Vegas Mayor pro tem; Bishop C. C. Cox, Upper Room Church of God in Christ pastor, and William Sharpe, assistant cashier, First National Bank of Nevada. Development will consist of 476 moderately priced single family homes, 275-space mobile home park and sites for schools, churches and commercial complexes. Initial unit of 73 three and four bedroom, two-bath homes priced at 14,700 now under construction is already more than half sold according to the developer. Subsequent units are now in the planning stage according to a spokesman for Rohr Aircraft Corporation's architectural and home-building division.
