WASHINGTON, D.C.--From beginning to end, "everything in the Bible rejects extremism," according to the Rev. Dr. George R. Davis of the National City Christian Church, where President Johnson often worships.

Quoting the words of Jesus, St. Paul and other Biblical figures, the minister sought to demonstrate that extremism flies in the face of accepted religious values.

He accused extremists of fanaticism, secretiveness and other failings, and said "the Bible does not offer blessing or encouragement" for any of these.

With extremists "it's all out or nothing," he said, but St. Paul advised the Philippians, "Let your moderation be known unto all men."

EXTREMISTS REFUSE to tell whether they are a Communist or a Bircher--"they are ashamed to"--he said. But Jesus said, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works."

RICHMOND, Va.--A Federal court has been asked to strike down Virginia's anti-mixed-marriages law by a white man and his Negro wife who have been barred from living together in the state.

The complaint was filed by Richard Perry Loving and his wife Mildred Jeter Loving.

The Lovings were tried and sentenced to one year in prison each. The sentence was suspended upon condition that they not live together.
