Plenty of Activity At Madison School

A STUDENT DRILL TEAM is being organized to represent Madison School in community activities. Final selection of team members will be made in February following tryouts among fifth and sixth grade students based on scholarship, appearance, decorum, interest and skill. Mrs. Eva Simmons is in charge of the program.

American Negro History Week will be observed at Madison School on Feb. 10, with the three sixth grade classes tracing the Negro heritage from the early days of continental exploration to the present in a series of dramatizations, dances, songs and recitations. The public is invited.

The third grade class of Mrs. Mable Barr "attended" the inauguration of President Lyndon B. Johnson via television on Jan. 20. Mrs. Barr used this medium to provide new learning experiences for the children and also reviewed historical facts attendant to the ceremony.

A Father and Son Banquet will be the first major project of the Mothers Club of Room 51 for the new year. Mrs. Rosa Brewer, club president, announced at the January meeting that the April event will be built around the theme "A Salute to Spring", with Mrs. Christie Green as program chairman. The club meets on third Mondays in the home room of Lindburgh Smith.

Sixth grade classes of Mrs. Bernice Moten and Mrs. Elsie Sellers took a train ride to Moapa Valley recently to culminate the unit "Man Made Wonder of Today." The children learned about diesel engines and train crew duties. At Moapa, they toured this old Nevada city, did some mountain climbing. On the return trip by bus they were able to view some areas of the Valley of Fire.

First meeting of the Madison School Brownie Scout Troop will be held soon under the direction of volunteer co-leaders Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and Elizabeth Bennett.

Mrs. Moten, Mrs. Sellers and Jerry O'Brien are preparing Madison School sixth graders for the February session of the Community Leaders Project. Attorney Charles Kellar and Dr. James McMillan, dentist, will be the guest speakers. This new school-community relations project will be evaluated near the end of the semester to explore and develop additional facets for the next school year.
