

WHO'S WHO and doing what

By EDDYE K. KIM

"TURN YOUR FANCY to THOUGHTS of LOVE"

In one of the largest and most lavish weddings of the winter season here, Walter Parker Jr. of Los Angeles claimed our own Marjorie Collins as his bride last Saturday night in the Chapel of the Roses.

Marjorie is the daughter of Mrs. A. C. Brooks of Las Vegas and Mr. Brooks, Houston, Texas. Her groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker Sr. of Greenwood, Miss.

The new Mrs. Parker's bridal gown was a two piece ribbon knit with beaded top over an A-line skirt from the House of Bianchi. Her head piece trailed a finger-tip veiling and orchids were pinned to her white prayer book. For "something old," she carried a handkerchief of pre-Civil War days that belonged to the matron of honor's great grandmother.

Her honor attendant, Mrs. Elizabeth Olden of Los Angeles, wore a white crepe gown with sequin top and a face veil. She also carried orchids. Best man William Price of Los Angeles looked like Mr. Esquire in the very latest black tie dress. Joe Whitaker gave the bride away.

In the receiving line were the bride's two daughters--Margret Jean Rivers, a student at USC, who wore a Medlon knit, and Mrs. Sammie Armstrong, in pea green silk. Very much in evidence and obviously delighted with his new mama, was the groom's son, Troy.

Following the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. M. D. Bennett, there was a dinner reception at the prominent business-woman-bride's Wyatt St. home.

Marjorie, who owned and operated Marjorie's Beauty Shop here, will be leaving us for Los Angeles, where Mr. Parker has operated a service station for 25 years. But vivacious Marj isn't going to desert the business world. She already has accepted a position with Helene Curtis as a representative in California, Nevada and Colorado specializing in styling and hair coloring.

Wedding guests included the Leon Shorter Jrs., Benny Roses, Neal Maxeys, James Garlands, L. Hamiltons, Nathaniel Hugheses, James Q. Halls, Charles K. Williamses, L. B. Halls, Curtis Gordons, Lawrence Marshalls, Ed Flys, Robert L. Reids, Onward Abingtons and Remes Wards; the Mmes. Jean Thomas, Gwen Weekes, Hazel Crooks, William Jones, Carolyn Branch Owens, Ellen Jones, Katherine Hall, Gladine Short, Ida Mae Crockett and C. M. Hightower; the Misses Jean Thomas, Carol and Gloria

TEACHER of the WEEK . . .

The many facets of a woman's world. What is a woman's world? Ask a dozen people and you'll get a dozen different answers. And like the cat, women live many lives in one lifetime. Come to think of it, most women are like the cat. No, not THAT way! We are really paying our fair sex a compliment. After all, what is more graceful than a cat?

Inspiration for these not-so-profound thoughts is a graceful lady named Deborah Moore, our Teacher of the Week, who has lived many interesting lives. Recently saluted by the Las Vegas Sun "Party Line" as its Woman of the Week, this popular sixth grade teacher at Kit Carson School doesn't let her professional career interfere with her career as a wife and mother.
