Madison, Garside Students Discuss Jr. High Problems

SIXTH GRADE STUDENTS of Madison School discussed the academic and emotional approach to junior high school entry with a panel of eight Garside Junior High students last Monday at Madison.

Areas explored included academic problems and sports, school conduct relative to self-concept, respect for teachers, cleanliness and language, and junior high schedules and program activities.

The thinking and feelings of the students were expressed in discussions on study habits and skills, courses to be taken, proper behavior, sports programs, schedules of activity and the need for motivation and perseverance.

As a means of providing stimulation and surface knowledge directly from students at the junior high level, the program proved highly interesting to the Madison students. Plans are being developed to enlarge the inter-school program at an early date.

First grade students of Rooms 5 and 6 will entertain their parents at a special assembly in the multipurpose room at 2 o'clock today, March 25. These pupils of Mrs. Susie Parker and Enid Cerrie will sing two songs and present two dance numbers in addition to several choral reading selections.
