

WHO'S WHO and doing what

By EDDYE K. KIM

"WITH ALL THE FRILLS UPON IT..."

Say, didn't you look just too smart for words, marching along to Easter services with the rest of your family, all decked out in your new spring finery. Yes, we mean YOU! We saw you, sure enough. It certainly did our heart good to see so many shining faces peering out from under those fancy bonnets. We only wish we could have snapped photos of everyone as you paraded "down the avenue" in the first full warmth of the year. But, of course, that was impossible, so we had to content ourselves with having Clinton Wright catch a few of the younger children in their cute, little dresses as they "tried on" their mummies' beautiful Easter bonnets. And just to show that we appreciate fathers at this joyous season of the year. (as well as other seasons, of course), we had our five-year-old "fashion models" pose with their daddies, all of whom happen to be prominent ministers of the gospel. The adjoining photos show the Rev. V. C. L. Coleman of the Second Baptist Church (so much trimmer and healthy looking again after his recent operation) with lovely daughter Myrtle Kai, the personification of spring radiance in her Easter accessories of yellow and white gloves, shoes and purse; the Rev. Marion Bennett of Zion Methodist Church, with his pretty little Kay, and the Rev. Donald Clark, who speaks to you from the VOICE 'Pulpit' every week, with the apple of his eye, Yvonne.

IT WAS 'AT TWILIGHT TIME'...

One of the nicest occasions of the season took place at Ruben's Supper Club when local alumni of Arkansas A.M. & N. College held their first annual "Easter Parade." Chapter president Jimmy Gay, one of the Pine Bluff school's most illustrious graduates, greeted everyone to the soft strains of organ-piano music played by Lindburgh Smith and Dodge Bolton. Guests were served from the buffet as Mrs. Henry Moore and Mrs. James Gay judged the "Easter Parade" finery of the ladies present. Mrs. Perry Rose was selected as the winner and suitably rewarded for her chic with a beautiful purse from Fanny's. Runnersup included Mmes. Lucille Gee (bubbling with excitement over her first golf tournament at Riverside, Calif., recently), Minnie Wilkins and yours truly, who received yellow mums, the A.A.M. & N. school flower. (We just love 'em.) Other members of the local chapter present included Mmes. Bernice Moten, who served as "Parade" chairman; Elsie Sellers, Lacyrene Scott, Ethel Johnson, Lillie Scott and our own Clint Wright. . . Another most enjoyable affair last weekend was the surprise birthday party for Mrs. Lonnie Sisson arranged by local realtor Marjorie Elliott and her mother, Mrs. Odessa Bowman, at their Mike Circle home. More than a score of Sandy's friends "just happened to drop in" to pay their respects to the attractive young matron, who certainly doesn't look like the mother of a "grown" daughter almost three months old. Marjorie and her mother served a delicious repast and there was

OH, THOSE EASTER BONNETS! -- Look closely and you will notice that the three young ladies shown above wearing their own Easter chapeaux in photos with their proud papas have switched to outside head-dress in accompanying photos by themselves. Yes, you guessed it! They just couldn't resist 'trying on' their mamas' new bonnets. In top photos the Rev. V. C. L. Coleman and Myrtle Kai. Lower left are the Rev. Donald Clark and Yvonne, with the Rev. Marion Bennett and Kay on lower right. (See 'Who's Who' column this page.)

HAVE YOU MISSED SOMETHING? . . .

No, we haven't begun to finish with our series on "Teacher of the Week." It's just that we've exhausted our space budget for this edition, so you will have to wait until next week for our next honoree. Until then, au revoir!
