How long before the next
 Wilma Rudolph comes along?

Until she was eight, the world's greatest woman runner couldn't even walk. But Wilma Rudolph had the courage and determination to overcome a crippling childhood illness and become the heroine of the 1960 Rome Olympics. She sped to victory in the 100 and 200 meter sprints, the 400 meter relay, and collected three gold medals for the U. S. A.

Not every youngster can be a Wilma Rudolph. In fact, very few even participate in organized sports, much less become stars. But every young person — if only a spectator — can be as physically fit as the star athlete.

Our national leaders have stated that physical fitness, particularly the fitness of our young people, has never been more important than it is today.

To support the national fitness program, Equitable has prepared a special film: "Youth Physical Fitness — A Report to the Nation." If you would like to borrow a print of this film for showing to community groups, contact your nearest Equitable office or write to Equitable's home office.

For an attractive 7 1/4 by 11 inch reproduction of this drawing, send your name and address and the words, Wilma Rudolph, to: Equitable, G. P. O. Box 1828, New York, N. Y. 10001.
