

Doolittle Seeks Coaches For Baseball Program

ADULT VOLUNTEERS are urgently needed to serve as coaches and advisors for more than 200 West Las Vegas boys who have signed up at Doolittle Center for the city "little league" baseball program this summer.

Members of the Men's Progressive League and Recreation Dept. personnel who conducted the registration last Saturday said all adults interested in helping out should contact director Joe Haynes at Doolittle Center Mondays through Saturdays from 1 to 10 p.m.

It was emphasized that sponsors also are needed for the various teams being formed for competition in the various leagues that start play in June.

Five elementary schools in West Las Vegas already have a softball program in operation, with games being played at Doolittle Park on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and on Tuesdays at 4 p.m. About 200 fifth and sixth grade boys and girls are involved in this program.

Young Adults Organize

YOUNG ADULTS of West Las Vegas in the general age group of 21 to 35 are invited to attend a rally scheduled for Doolittle Center at 5 p.m. Saturday (May 1) for the purpose of encouraging active participation in community activities. Free entertainment will be provided according to Leonard Mason of the organizing group.

Where We Stand ...

MAURICE "WHITEY" ROBBINS, prominent local businessman, is a candidate for Municipal Judge in the Las Vegas primary election of May 4.

"If entrusted with the municipal judgeship, I will do everything within my power to insure the rights of all persons brought before the court," Robbins declared. "I promise to dispense equal justice for all regardless of wealth or social status. I also will urge the city to appoint a public defender to make certain that defendants unable to afford private counsel will receive full protection in court. And the citizenry may be assured that there will be no tampering with court records or other cause for scandal under my administration."

JOSEPH NORM DOTSON, a practicing patent attorney for 25 years and a union member for 20 years, is a candidate for Municipal Judge in the North Las Vegas general election of May 4.

"If elected, I will work for the office and the people rather than for any personal advantages the office may afford," Dotson said in a campaign statement. "I am aware that decisions handed down in municipal court may, at times, tend to work hardship on others than those sentenced and I intend to be fair but strict. I also will actively support a workable rehabilitation program for chronic offenders. Finally, I pledge proper decorum outside, as well as in, the court room."
