MAY WEDDING for CARRIE WILLIAMS . . .

Charles E. Mitchell claimed Carrie Williams as his bride in a Saturday night ceremony performed by Bishop C. C. Cox in the Upper Room Church of God in Christ amid gayly decorated green and white colonnades depicting the May-time season.

The attractive bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom P. Williams, 1120 Leonard, was given in marriage by her father. Her sister, Mrs. Walter Jones Jr., was matron of honor; another sister, Cathy Williams, was flower girl, while Mary Ruth Jacobs served as bridesmaid. Her nephew, Freddie Littlefield, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson of San Francisco. His best man was Burt Johnson, and Sam Armstrong was usher.

Carrie chose a long blue nylon gown, styled in a slim skirt caught with pearls, and a blue satin cummerbund with obi bow in back, for the ceremony. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion fell from a domed cap and she carried a bouquet of "old-fashioned" mixed flowers.

The bride's mother wore white linen and lace, which contrasted nicely with the blue and mink worn by the groom's mother.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams of Tracy, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boudreaux, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Southall, all of San Francisco, and Mrs. Levie Spigner of Sebastopol, Calif.

TEACHER of the WEEK . . .

"All children have undiscovered potentialities. Their peculiar talents differ in kind and degree, but creativeness is present to some degree in every child. Democracy's demand upon the teaching profession is clear. It is to help each child discover and develop his unique gifts."

This is the belief of LaNeal Lucas Rayford, a kindergarten teacher at Matt Kelly and Madison Schools--and our Teacher of the Week.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Lucas, LaNeal was born, raised and received her elementary and secondary education in Forrest City, Ark. Following graduation from high school, she entered Arkansas A. M. & N. College at Pine Bluff and earned her B.S. degree in 1964.

LaNeal is on the Welfare Committee of Pi Tau Sigma, the teachers' professional society; belongs to the Kappa Alpha Psi Silhouettes and the Las Vegas Chapter of Arkansas A. M. & N. Alumni, and teaches Sunday School at Zion Methodist Church.

Mrs. Rayford's hobbies are reading and leather crafts. She lives with her husband, Lee, (whom you met in this column last week) at 325 Duke.

Church early this month. Participants included Bobby Ernest, Vera Moore, Terry Jones, Diane Stevenson, Patricia Ernest, Ervin Drake, Jimmy Shirl, Donald Sykes and Al Stillman. Guest artist was Larry Harris. . . Hope you didn't miss Eartha Kitt's stirring performance in the new movie, "Synanon," which was seen recently at the Guild Theater here. Eartha is outstanding in the role of Betty Coleman, an ex-drug addict who is now director of women's activities for the organization's famed rehabilitation center in Southern California. Other stars in the picture are Edmond O'Brien, Chuck Connors, Stella Stevens and Richard Conte, but for our money it was the slinky Eartha, who once packed 'em in on the Las Vegas Strip with her sultry vocals, who really "stole the show." . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carr of Redlands and Joseph Bristow of San Bernardino were house guests of the Kermit Bookers here during the recent initiation activities of Kappa Alpha Psi, while the Bookers, in turn, were the dinner guests of the Joe Haynes for a birthday celebration.
