212 West Utah St. In addition to the key office sought by Freeman, members of the Local will vote for a president, vice president, sergeant-at-arms, three auditors and four members of the executive board.

Vying for the presidency is George Osley Jr., Grand Master of St. Mark Lodge, AF & AM (see photo page 7), while still another Westsider, former Golden Gloves boxing champion Primas White, is going for vice president.

Freeman, a member in good standing in Local No. 872 since March 9, 1953, is trying to unseat perennial union official James G. (Sailor) Ryan, who also serves on the Clark County Commission.

"It's time to make a change," is Freeman's campaign motto. The 23-year local resident feels that Ryan, "working boss" of Local No. 872 for some 18 years, has been at the helm long enough.

Freeman was born in Chicago, Ill., on Memorial Day of 1919 and will be celebrating his 46th birthday this Sunday, May 30. He is a graduate of First Ward Colored High School in Lake Charles, La.

Freeman lives at 2220 Travis St. with his wife, Lillie, and three of his four daughters. Harolyn, his oldest child and a promising concert singer, attends the University of Nevada at Reno. His second-born, Michele Elaine, graduates from Las Vegas High next week and his third daughter, Brenda, is a student at Roy Martin Junior High. Kecia Lashone, the baby of the family, is only 13 months old.
